Storm Does Heavy Damage In Chicago

4 DEATHS ARE ATTRIBUTED TO BLINDING SNOW

STORM SWEEPS TO CLEVELAND

Lake Michigan Waters at Highest Level Yet
Recorded

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Four persons were killed, two by automobiles and two by trains here today in four accidents which were attributed by police to the driving, blinding snow.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—The lake front of four states, tottering and staggering from the effects of the maniacal fury of Lake Michigan waves which reached a height not seen for more than forty years, today was again assailed by the water monster although shifting winds brought a slight recession.

Small vessels were swamped; piers were demolished; residences in the fashionable "dunes" district of Indiana were shattered; boulevards in Chicago were under a foot of water near the lake and millions of dollars in property damage resulted from the rampage which Father Neptune staged on the vast body of water.

To tireless coast guards patrolling the shores of Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Southern Michigan throughout the night came the additional discomfort of stinging, blinding snow.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—A sudden change of wind saved Chicago today from further battering by the most terrific storm that has raged on Lake Michigan in 37 years, sweeping eastward towards Cleveland, Buffalo, Erie and ports on the eastern lakes.

Full violence of the disturbance was expected to break today over Lakes Huron and Erie, according to weather reports.

Swollen to the highest level yet on record, Lake Michigan all yesterday and last night poured giant waves against its 200-mile western shoreline.

In the Chicago district tons of water hurled onto the land battered huge concrete seawalls to pieces. Heavy cement bulkheads were crumpled by the waves. Pavements along the city's outer drives were ripped away.

Wind Reaches 53 Miles
The wind at times reached a 53-mile an hour velocity.

The first snow of the season began last night and continued today in the Chicago area.

Two seamen were rescued from a foundering barge yesterday. A number of small craft were damaged and torn from their moorings. Several were sunk in Kenosha, Wis., Waukegan, Ill., Wilmette, Ill., and Belmont, Chicago, harbors.

Thousands of dollars damage was caused as Wisconsin lake ports and shipping was tied up indeteminately.

New York, Oct. 23.—One death and property damage of a minor nature were caused by the rain storm and 50-mile an hour gale which swept over New York and the metropolitan district yesterday and last night, a checkup today revealed. Peter Coates, a coal truck driver of Passaic, N. J., was killed when a high power wire was ripped from its pole in East Rutherford, N. J.

Wind Hinders Lake Boats, Mail Planes

Cleveland, Oct. 23.—Winter weather rode into northern Ohio today in the tail of lashing rains and strong winds sweeping from the west and northwest, that endangered Great Lakes steamers and tied up air mail and passenger lines in this region.

Beginning early last night, the mercury began its descent. Weather prognosticators predicted today the temperature would continue to drop until the mercury stood at between 40 and 50 degrees. Winds, which are bringing the first signs of real winter, will probably reach gale proportions, it was said, having a velocity of 35 to 40 miles an hour.

Sunday Schools To Gather In Beloit

Sebring, Oct. 23.—Four Township Sunday School association will meet at Beloit, Friday afternoon and night; Nov. 1, with a dinner at 6.

D. H. Kempton, a teacher in the Lisbon high school will give an address while M. A. Coy of Cleveland, will also have a part on the program.

There are 22 Sunday schools which are members of the Four Township Sunday School association. This group holds two conventions each year.

PEKING UNDER MARTIAL LAW AFTER RIOTS

Police Unable To Cope With Disorders In Capital City

London, Oct. 23.—With the city of Peking under martial law, sporadic rioting between coolies and Nationalist troops continued today, according to dispatches from the far east.

According to a dispatch to the Daily Telegraph, rioting was prevalent for hours throughout the city as a result of reorganization of the General Labor federation. Thousands of Chinese workmen, armed with bludgeons, attacked and commandeered seventy trolley-cars, riding madly through the streets.

Troops, firing guns loaded with blank cartridges, charged into mobs attacking the headquarters of the tramworkers' union, dispersing them without serious casualties.

The police, however, found themselves unable to control the surging mobs parading the streets of the Chinese section, and martial law was put into effect. In spite of this demonstrations continued, and all shops were closed in the native quarter.

Foreign legations were carefully guarded as a precautionary measure. Meanwhile, heavy fighting between the troops of general Feng Yuh-Siang and Nationalist forces was reported in a Hankow dispatch to the Daily Mail. The fighting is centered about Cheng-Chow, which Feng and allied rebel leaders are attempting to capture as a prelude to an advance on Hankow.

A Peking message to the Daily Mail declares that General Yen Hsi-Shan, governor of Shansi, is awaiting the outcome of the battle before launching his troops into the rebellion.

Charles Luxell In Improved Condition

The condition of Charles Luxell 31, of Washingtonville, who is in Youngstown City hospital suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident Sunday, was reported improved today.

The youth underwent an operation at the hospital Tuesday and hopes were expressed this morning by relatives that the operation will be successful. Little hope was held out for his recovery yesterday.

He is suffering from a broken back sustained when the machine he and his brother, Marcel, 19, were driving was run off the road in Washingtonville.

Fall Case Will Go To Jury By Night

Washington, Oct. 23.—By night, the fate of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of interior, will be placed in the hands of a jury.

Only four hours of argument by counsel remain before Justice William Hitz charges the four women and eight men who have followed the evidence, and they retire to decide whether the $100,000 Fall got from E. L. Doherty, the oil magnate, was a bribe, as contended by the government, or a loan, as insisted by the defense.

Supreme Court Orders Typhoid Case Retrial

Columbus, Oct. 23.—Rejecting the appeal of the city of Salem the Ohio supreme court today affirmed the decree of the Columbiana county appellate court which ordered a new trial in common pleas court of the damage suit of F. J. Harding, 32 Roosevelt ave., Salem against the city.

After his daughters, Ethel and Carrie became ill with typhoid fever during the epidemic in Salem during the fall of 1920 Harding filed suit against the city for approximately $2,000 alleged damages, claiming the city's water supply was impure.

The case was brought to trial in common pleas court test case for more than 20 other damage suits pending against the city as a result of the epidemic. The common pleas court returned a judgment in favor of the city but the appellate court reversed this decree and remanded the case to the common pleas court for a new trial.

The city appealed to the supreme court in an attempt for a reversal of the appellate's court decree. The supreme court, however upheld the appellate body's judgment and the case will be retried in common pleas.

About 21 damage suits have been filed against the city, plaintiffs claiming damages sustained as a result of sickness or death of relatives during the epidemic. The result of the Harding case, the test case of the entire group is expected to have considerable bearing on the outcome of remaining suits.

WILLIAM CAREY, FORMER BANKER OF SALEM, DEAD

Ex-President of Farmers
Bank Dies In South;
Funeral Friday

William B. Carey, former president of the Farmers National bank of Salem, died at 4 p. m. Tuesday at Asheville, N. C.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Arbaugh chapel, McKinley ave.

Mr. Carey was born Dec. 9, 1860, in Salem, the youngest son of Dr. Abel and Maria Miller Carey. He attended school in Troy, N. Y., and then went to Grand Island, Neb., where he spent seven years in the employ of the Grand Island Banking Co.

In 1892 Mr. Carey returned to Salem, entering the employ of the Farmers National bank, with which institution he was associated for 34 years. He rose through successive positions of clerk, assistant cashier and cashier until he was elected president Jan. 13, 1920, to succeed M. L. Young.

In the fall of 1925 he was granted a leave of absence on account of ill health. He resigned his position of president of the bank on April 1, 1926, and went to Asheville, N. C., where he had since made his home.

Mr. Carey was a trustee of the First Presbyterian church and during his residence in Salem was prominent in all civic and social activities of the community.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Elisabeth L. Carey; one brother, Charles M. Carey of Salem; and five children: Mrs. W. C. McConnell of Akron; William H. Carey, Enclumpton, Wyo.; Abel Carey, Castle Rock, Colo.; Mrs. E. F. Hauser, Salem; and Miss Anna Carey of Akron.

JURY RETURNS GUILTY VERDICT

Joe Carbiello, Wellsville, was found guilty by a jury of eight women and four men on an indictment, charging him with manufacturing liquor. The jury was out one hour.

The verdict was returned at 1:30. The penalty is a fine of from $500 to $5,000 and from one to five years in the penitentiary.

Indictments Charge Ovr $10,000 Taken

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 23.—The alleged embezzlement and forgery case of the state against David A. Breining, of Waverly, former highway superintendent, grew to amazing proportions today.

Breining appeared before Judge Russell K. McCurdy and pleaded not guilty to 12 indictments, 11 of which were secret.

One embezzlement charge alone alleged that the former highway superintendent had appropriated $10,973 of highway funds to his own use. The man furnished $10,000 cash bond, and was released.

Breining is alleged to have obtained the $10,973 by forging pay checks and padding the payroll.

Home Inmate Tries To Poison Another

Coshocton, O., Oct. 23.—An inmate of the Coshocton county infirmary is in the county jail here today pending an investigation of an alleged attempt to poison a man.

The suspect, William Shaefer, 70, a former convict of the Ohio penitentiary, where he served a 30-year sentence for wounding a neighbor, is alleged to have put poison in his companion's milk.

An analysis of the liquid showed a potent strong enough to kill 30 persons, county officials aver.

Snow May Fall Over Ohio Tonight

Columbus, Oct. 23.—A warning that temperatures in Ohio would drop to the freezing point tonight was issued today by W. H. Alexander, of the government weather bureau here.

Snow flurries will sweep across the northern section of the state, he predicted, and may even touch the central and southern portions.

Alexander declared there would be little rain, though cloudy skies would prevail. He said temperatures would drop to from 32 to 28 degrees tonight.

SALEM WOMEN AT CONVENTION

Take Part in W. C. T. U.
Meeting at Findlay;
Laud Hoover

Mrs. J. B. Zeigler, Mrs. J. C. Edgerton and Mrs. A. H. Copeland, of Salem, are attending the annual state W. C. T. U. convention in session at Findlay.

Mrs. Florence D. Richard, Toledo, president of the state union, asked that all members give their full support to President Hoover and his enforcement program. Mrs. Richard quoted statistics from the federal government which showed the prohibition enactment to be 60 per cent more effective in 1929 than any previous year.

A telegram to President Hoover, through Mrs. Richards, asked the chief executive to appoint Judge Florence E. Allen, of the Ohio supreme court, a member of the American delegation to the London naval disarmament conference. A reply was awaited today.

SPEAKER TRACES LIGHT HISTORY

Salem Hi Students Hear
Discussion of Life of Edison

C. E. White of the National Mazda company of Cleveland addressed Salem high students in a special assembly held at the high school auditorium Tuesday afternoon.

White reviewed incidents in the life of Thomas A. Edison and traced the history of the electric light made possible by the famous wizard of electricity.

Demonstrations of the first lamp ever made by Edison together with contrasts between the original type of lamp and the lights of today were given.

Deposed Ruler Said Captured By Rival

London, Oct. 23.—The Amir Habibullah, deposed ruler of Afghanistan, has been captured by the forces of Nadir Khan, the new Amir. It was reported in a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Peshawar today.

It was previously reported Habibullah, who, as Bacha-I-Sakao, peasant water boy, dethroned King Amanullah, had escaped from Kabul following Nadir Khan's capture of the city.

The message adds Nadir Khan is suffering from pleurisy, his condition causing considerable anxiety.

Auditor's Report

Alliance, Oct. 23.—The city of Alliance has a bank balance of slightly less than half a million dollars. The city's balance October 1, according to a report given council Monday night by Miss Elsie Whittingham, city auditor, was $444,619.34. Receipts last month were $267,576.26, while expenditures were $93,641.42.

BUSINESS MEN NAME STRATTON NEW PRESIDENT

Annual Meeting of Salem
Bureau Held; Tax And Water Discussed

Joseph R. Stratton was elected president of the Salem Business Bureau at the annual meeting Monday night at the Memorial building.

He succeeds George J. Bunn. The business session followed dinner served at 6:30. President Bunn presiding, R. W. Hawley was elected vice president. The executive committee is composed of the president, vice president and Vance R. McBane, R. L. Hutcheson and George J. Bunn.

Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, secretary, submitted a financial report for the year and also for the community festival, which proved to be a success.

Brief explanation of the proposed state tax amendment was made by B. L. Flick, who urged the business men to actively support this measure. He told of plans being made for a public meeting some night next week, at which the tax proposal will be discussed by an out-of-town speaker.

Support of the Butler water project also was urged by several members of the bureau and it was suggested that questions which have been raised on this issue be answered at the tax amendment meeting.

Next week, President Stratton appointed R. S. McCulloch, R. W. Hawley and C. W. Kaminsky as a committee to work with B. L. Flick in arranging a joint tax-water meeting.

APPEAL DENIED BY OHIO COURT

Belmont County Commissioners Fail
In Attempt to Reverse Decision
Of Lower Courts On Issue

Columbus, O., Oct. 23.—Appeal of Charles W. Wise, James Dillon and John Shry, as members of the Belmont county board of commissioners; Paul B. Jones, as county treasurer; and Homer G. Finley, as county auditor, from the decree of the Belmont county courts favoring W. A. Allen and others was rejected today by the Ohio supreme court.

The lower courts enjoined these county officials from levying and collecting assessments from Allen and other owners of property within one mile of each side of the High Bridge road, also known as inter-county highway 99, in connection with plans for improving this road.

Increase Looms In Iron, Steel Trade

Pittsburgh, Oct. 23.—Production has struck bottom and an increase is imminent. The Iron Age will say tomorrow in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade.

"In the valley district," the magazine will state, "which ships more steel to the automobile industry than any other producing center, output is down to 70 per cent, but no further curtailment is looked for. In the Pittsburgh district crude steel production is being maintained at an 80 per cent rate and rail mill operations are being increased. At Chicago the tardiness of rail specifications has caused the temporary banking of a steel works blast furnace."

HOOVER FLOATS TO LOUISVILLE ON OHIO RIVER

River High, Wind Heavy

SPEAKS TONIGHT
IN STATE CAPITAL

President Enjoys Trip
Down New Canal
Of River

Enroute With President Hoover to Louisville, Ky., Oct. 23.—President Hoover was just floatin' today.

Cut off, temporarily at least, from the troubles of Washington and the burdens of the White House, the president of the United States reverted to just plain Herbert Hoover, the engineer, as the old stern-wheelers, "Greenbrier," paddled down the Ohio today in the vanguard of "The Grand Fleet" which is celebrating the complete opening of a water roadway to the Mississippi.

Strung out behind the Kentucky are the river craft of a dozen cities and towns that dot the Ohio river. Pittsburgh is represented, Huntington, too, and from Cincinnati and other towns along the meandering Ohio there are vessels enough to make a real fleet. The Greenbrier, carrying President Hoover and his immediate party is the flagship of the river cavalcade.

To Arrive at Louisville
Late this afternoon, they will tie up at Louisville, named for the exiled French king who travelled the same route a century ago and landed at the spot where the Kentucky metropolis now stands. There tonight, the president will celebrate with the Ohio river folk, from Pittsburgh to Cairo, the completion of the river's canalization, and outline to them the waterways policies which he hopes to see fulfilled before the end of his administration.

These policies embrace the linking up the waterways of the middle west with the railroads into a vast system of interstate communication and transportation such as the empire builders dreamed of but could not realize.

The governors of two states, Kentucky and Indiana will welcome Mr. Hoover to the river country today. A stop will be made at Madison, Ind., today for Gov. Harry Leslie to greet the presidential party and tonight in Louisville, Gov. Flem D. Sampson will speak Kentucky's welcome to the first president the Blue Grass state has entertained in years.

Goos Into Indiana
The Greenbrier is due to arrive at Louisville at 4 p. m. The president will be met by a small reception committee, and then drive across the new bridge to the Indiana side, returning to Louisville for dinner and the speech, which will be delivered in the open air from the stern of the vessel which carried him downstream. The audience will be banked on the terraced river front.

Late tonight, Mr. Hoover will board his special train for the return trip to Washington, arriving there late tomorrow.

Last night was a rough night on the Ohio. The river is high, and a strong October gale whipped the yellow waters to waves of ocean-like proportions. Spray from the paddles drove constantly across the top decks of the paddle steamers, before they tied up, and the rain fell incessantly. Fog horns boomed intermittently. Mr. Hoover seemed rather to enjoy it.

Rotary Hears Talk On Light's Jubilee

Developments in lighting since the invention of the incandescent light 50 years ago by Thomas A. Edison, were traced by C. E. Weitz, of Cleveland, in a talk before the rotary club Tuesday noon at the Elks home.

Weitz declared that even though greater accomplishments had been made in the last ten years than in the preceding 40, the age of lighting still is in its infancy. He pointed to the development of lights for proper vision, for decorative purposes and for health, but predicted that greater progress is in store for the future.

The speaker was presented to the club by E. F. Hauser.

Salem Residents Pay Liquor Fines

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—Two more who were arrested in a recent Salem liquor raid of September 28, who entered pleas of not guilty when arraigned before Judge Lodge Ridge three weeks ago, came into court Tuesday and changed their pleas to guilty.

Jennie Sage, charged with selling, was fined $200 and costs, and J. B. Kopf, also charged with selling, who kept $150 and costs. Both paid fines and were released.

Many Fall to Death

Columbus, Oct. 23.—Ninety-one persons fell down stairs and were killed or fatally injured during the first seven months of 1929, in Ohio, according to the Division of Vital Statistics of the State Health department here today.

Mrs. Doris Merryman, of Toledo, department president, will give an address at the evening session of the district convention of Daughters of Union Veterans which will be held Friday at the Salem Elks home.

This session will be open to the public. Other numbers on the program will include: Piano solo, Mrs. Harold Babb; vocal solo, A. P. Lutes; vocal quartet, Mrs. J. J. Hoover and Harold Babb; classical dance, Mary Frances Juergens; songs, Betsy Ross trio, Canton tent; playlet, nine members of the Women's Benefit association; violin solo, Miss Belva Glawe, Canton; address, Bertha Martin, of Massillon, original member of the Daughters of Union Veterans; drill, women of the Salem tent.

The morning session, which opens at 9:30, will be chiefly taken up with business. Luncheon will be served at 12 at the American Legion home by Salem tent.

Zella Mangus, Salem, will give the welcome address at the afternoon session which opens at 1:30. The response will be by Ella Crawford, Massillon; Salem tent will exemplify the ritual, while the Alliance tent will have the Memorial service.

Mrs. William Probert, Salem, district president, will be in charge. Mrs. Harold Babb, Salem, and Mrs. Robert Glawe, Canton, will be the accompanists.

Delegates are expected from Ravenna, Beach City, Orrville, Alliance, Canton, Massillon, Sebring tents which with Salem compose the district.

Salem Man Brings Large Damage Suit

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—Former County Commissioner Conrad Berg of Leesport was named as defendant in a $25,000 damage action filed with Clerk of Courts John Noble on Monday.

The action was filed by William F. McCarty of Salem, who cites three instances to the court when Berg, according to his statement, assaulted and beat him and otherwise mistreated him, after having attempted to have him adjudged insane and committed to the state asylum.

On Aug. 6, last, McCarty states, Berg had him arrested on a false charge, charging that he was insane and for a time he was detained by Sheriff Barlow. When the matter was investigated, however, he states, by Judge Riddle in the probate court, he was discharged as sane.

Daring of 'Cowboy'

London, Oct. 23.—Doubt over Urb F. Diteman's chances of success in his daring attempt at a solo trans-Atlantic flight was expressed here today as the hours passed without any word of his being sighted.

At 6 o'clock this evening (2 p. m. Eastern Standard time) no word of any sort had been received of the aviator's progress. The Air Ministry told International News Service that no news had been received and a check-up of coast guard stations along the English and Irish coasts revealed that the flier had not been seen.

As the hour rapidly approached when Diteman, through shortage of fuel, must be forced to land, hopes for his success waned. A gale was reported blowing up off the Irish coast which furnished a new threat to successful completion of the daring flight.

London, Oct. 23.—All England eagerly and hopefully look forward today to the arrival of Urban F. Diteman, the Montana cattle man, who is now believed to be well beyond the mid-Atlantic on his solo-hop from Harbor Grace, N. F.

However, at a late hour this morning there were no reports from any sources of his progress across the Atlantic.

This was not regarded as being out of the way inasmuch as Diteman carried no radio by which passing ships could communicate with him and also because of the fact that no ship could be expected to sight his plane in the dark.

The English populace is intrigued by the daring flight of the American, not only because of the sporting chance he is taking in using the smallest of all trans-Atlantic planes, but also because of the claims he has made to direct descent from Sir Francis Drake, famous leader of Queen Elizabeth's armadas.

The weather reports issued by the air ministry this morning were far from favorable. They told of cold, drizzling rain and north winds in (Continued on Page 4)

CITY ENGINEER AT CONFERENCE

F. S. Barckhoff Speaks On
Salem Disposal Plant
At Canton Meeting

The history of the Salem sewage treatment plant, its working processes and various advantages which it has over other types of municipal sewage projects were discussed by City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff before a gathering of Ohio engineering experts at the third annual Ohio conference on sewage treatment at Canton this morning.

Barckhoff discussed the various differences between the new plant and the one used in this city up until last year, augmenting his talk by showing of motion pictures of the plant.

The entire gathering is expected to visit Salem's sewage plant this afternoon. The local works is expected to attract much interest from the visiting experts in that it is considered an innovation in sewage projects.

AMERICANIZATION

Our British cousins seemingly are greatly disturbed by the fear that the "King's English" is becoming Americanized. A number of writers in British papers have recently noted with regret that many American words and phrases have come into common usage in England as the result of the showing of our movies there, patrons of the movie houses picking them up from the subtitles thrown upon the screen.

Thus far we can go along with them in their fear. They have a right to be worried if the words and phrases which they hold are corrupting the English language as spoken there comes from the source they hold, for of all the forms in which English is presented over here that employed by the movie title writers is about the worst. If movie stuff is gaining a foothold in their land, we can sympathize with them from the bottom of our hearts.

But now the charge is made that the debasing effect of Americanization is being shown in the misuse of words by English papers even in sentences referring to King George himself.

As an illustration, a well-known British etymologist recently called public attention to a headline in a leading London paper which read: "The King Plans a Day's Shooting."

The use of the word "plan" as a verb, this British scholar explains, "is just one illustration of the subtle growth of Americanisms in the speech of England." He holds that a stiffer for good and unadulterated English would have written it: "The King has arranged for a day's shooting."

Awful isn't it?
The Century dictionary gives, among other definitions the verb "plan," "to lay plans for." Thus the headline would mean "the king lays plans for a day's shooting."

But what puzzles us is that this British scholar is so slow in getting next to the American corruption of English in the use of words. It must have been going on for some time. There was born in London, back in the seventeenth century, one who, as Alexander Pope, became a poet of worldwide fame, and we find him using the verb "plan" in the same objectionable way. Something like the present-day corruption must have been at work over there almost three centuries ago.

But possibly the worst offense the British are in position to charge against the Americanization of the English language, as it is very generally spoken in English, is that the American pronunciation is getting a foothold there. Many Britishers are following it. King George himself is an offender in this regard. English as he speaks it can be understood by any American, or any one else familiar with the proper manner in which to utter English words.

GRAM OF RADIUM

Mme. Marie Curie, co-discoverer of radium and scientist of world-wide fame, has returned to America to dedicate the new Hepburn laboratory at St. Lawrence university at Canton, New York, attend a dinner in honor of Thomas Alva Edison and to meet friends made on her first visit in 1921.

On that occasion, she was given a leaden casket containing a gram of radium, with which to carry on her great work in behalf of humanity in the Curie laboratory in Paris, named in honor of her husband, which she has so faithfully done.

When she returns from her present trip, she will carry back with her another gram of radium, philanthropic Americans having donated $50,000 for its purchase.

Through Mme. Curie's efforts and the generosity of the French government and individual Frenchmen, the Paris Institute of Radium, in which she is interested, has an ample supply of radium with which to carry on its work, but it has long been the hope and desire of Mme. Curie, who has done so great a work for the land of her adoption, to do as much for Poland, the land of her birth, and thus this second gram of radium goes to her that she may realize her dream and alleviate distress and suffering in the land which gave her to the world.

America thus again shows its appreciation of Mme. Curie's unselfish labors in behalf of mankind; thus it acts to do her honor, and in so doing it pays honor to itself. No gift could be more greatly appreciated by her; no gift could be bestowed to do so much good.

The director of the Philadelphia zoo says the fur on the polar bears is longer than usual, that the groundhog is storing up an unusual amount of fat and that the prairie dogs are building the tops of their burrows higher above the ground than he has ever known before—all signs of an exceedingly cold winter. It might be added that the Chicago Cubs have also holed up for some reason or other.

The broker of Bishop James Cannon Jr., at the time the latter was a bucket-shop patron, has been sentenced to five years in the Atlanta penitentiary. Wouldn't it be awful should some enthusiastic sponsor of better morals propose a law, along the line of that to punish the man who buys liquor, to make the man who gambles in bucket-shops equally guilty with the men who run them?

The Arab one-day strike in Palestine passed off as quietly as a summer zephyr. Denied, by the presence of troops, the opportunity to kill Jews, a mere demonstration looked entirely too much like work to them.

"Scarface Al" Capone has formally withdrawn his appeal to the Pennsylvania supreme court to be released from prison, without assigning any reason for his action. Possibly he received a tip that he might enjoy far better health inside the prison walls than out in the wide, wide world.

"The democratic form of government," declared George Bernard Shaw in his first radio address, "is comparable to a big balloon filled with hot air, released so that you can look up at the sky while others pick your pockets." Surely not the United States—oh, surely not!

What Others Say

THE ROOT OF AN EVIL

Swearing is a well sharpened axe with force and with precision. President L. A. Miller of the Willis-Overland Co. strikes at the root of the evil of overproduction of automobiles.

Production and sales records are good talking points in automobile marketing, but they seem to have been overstressed when considerations of price, power, dependability and comfort would be more convincing from the purchaser's viewpoint.

In consequence of competitive striving and straining for production records, there has been overproduction. The number of new cars forced upon the market somewhat exceeds the purchasing power of the people, but the new automobile model of this year cannot usually be carried over until next year except at sacrifice by the dealer. He must move his stock, if not by actual price cutting, then by too liberal allowance for a trade-in used car.

That is not a remedy for the situation. It is an expedient of doubtful wisdom which, in turn, creates another problem—that of disposing of the used car at a price which the dealer must obtain in order to "break even."

As Mr. Miller so well says, the flood of new cars from the factories and the piling up of used car inventories, is an unbearable burden upon the automobile retailer. And Mr. Miller might have added with equal truth that, while a few individual car buyers benefit by the dealers' loss, the burden of continuing loss and waste ultimately must be passed along to the public.

By discarding the too-ambitious fixed in advance production program and turning out cars in just sufficient quantity to meet legitimate demand, the automobile industries will be placed upon a better business basis. Their dealers will benefit also and the savings may be reflected eventually in better cars without corresponding increase in price.—Toledo Blade.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, October 24.
A rather unimportant day is presaged from the feeble lunar transits and the weak solar position, although the Martian aspect may incite the mental activities. There may be small financial gains and some prospects of trivial losses through deception or fraud. Likewise, there may be minor perplexities or complications but, by and large, the outlook is satisfactory.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a rather routine year with a mediocre degree of success. Small financial gains are foreseen, but trifling worries with danger of fraud or misrepresentation are also possible. The mind will be keyed up to livelier conditions, which may not materialize.

A child born on this day may have a very alert and versatile mental equipment, but its progress may not be proportionately gratifying. Yet it may be fairly prosperous and personally gratified.

Orange trees believed to have been planted in Florida in 1830 still are bearing fruit each year.

SUN-BATH SHOULD BE MADE A DAILY RITUAL

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

Not long ago I saw an eight-months old baby. It had a great big head, was large for its age, had big, questioning eyes, and in many ways was an attractive youngster.

But the child was "peaked." It was pale, almost waxen in appearance. It was listless, sitting quietly in its chair, almost the only movement being in those great eyes.

It isn't normal for an infant to be "too good." Best lessness, eagerness, perpetual motion—these are normal symptoms. Their absence creates the suspicion that all is not well with the baby.

On many occasions I have told you how important an adjunct to the household are the scales. They are needed to measure the physical progress of the baby. Steady increase of weight is the surest sign of good health.

But of course increase of weight is only one sign of health. Indeed, it may give a false sense of security. Unless the other evidences of vigor and health are present, the fat of the baby is not a good sign at all.

There are two factors that, more than all others, determine the welfare of an infant: The inclusion in the food of the essential vitamins and daily exposure to sunshine or its equivalent, the modern ultra-violet light.

Even though a young mother does not know the difference between vitamin C and a side of sole leather, if she will give her baby cod liver oil, orange or tomato juice and plenty of sunlight, the youngster is almost sure to thrive. Everybody knows the baby must have milk and fresh air. But the three things I have mentioned are overlooked all too frequently in the homes of America.

Nobody can afford to forget that the sun rules the world. No wonder there are tribes that worship the sun. Sunlight has such a vital part in human welfare that the orb of day deserves credit if not adoration. In the polar regions, where there are many months of darkness or semi-darkness, travelers and the natives as well, bleach out during the long winter. They become anemic, weak and wasted.

No matter how strong you may be, you need exposure to light. If this is true of the huskies, what can be said of tiny babies? They must have sunlight if they are to grow.

THE NEW 70 HORSE-POWER HUPMOBILE SIX . . . $1060

For 21 years Hupmobile has been building original motor cars. Now, with its new 1930 Six and Eight, Hupmobile again overcomes the commonly-accepted restrictions of price. Those who have been accustomed to a certain limit of power at a given price are startled by vastly increased power, by abnormal speed, by excessive acceleration . . . at a lower price. Those who have been satisfied with comfort are now given luxury and spaciousness. Those who have merely liked conventional body designs are now spurred to enthusiasm by the new and harmonized beauty of these 1930 Hupmobiles . . . See for yourself how definitely Hupmobile has advanced all standards of motor car design. Ride in these cars. Drive them. Go over them, point by point . . . And you will have an entirely new unit of measurement on which to base your choice.

BANK ROBBER BREAKS JAIL EARLY TODAY

Man Wanted For Ohio
Thefts Escapes In Washington

Bucyrus, O., Oct. 23. — Sheriff George Davenport, of Crawford county, and Police Captain George Moody, of Gallon, left here at 10 o'clock last night for Washington to return Wilbur Hand to the Ohio State penitentiary. They kept their departure secret and were armed with extradition papers signed by Governor Myers Y. Cooper.

They should arrive in Washington about noon, and then they will learn that their "bad bird" has "flown."

Washington, Oct. 23. — Wilbur Hand, Toledo, Ohio, alleged robber of a Gallon, Ohio, bank, who jumped his bond while appealing a 12-to-25-year prison sentence, escaped from a district police station here at 5:30 this morning.

Hand was arrested October 14 when he could not explain his presence in the downtown section during the early hours. He was identified as Hand, police said, by fingerprints forwarded to the Ohio authorities.

Hand got a 25-minute start on the police before his escape was noted by Patrol Wagon Driver L. A. Cleig who checked the prisoners in preparation to taking them to central police court for hearings. An end cell, occupied by Hand, was empty.

To gain his freedom Hand was forced to pass through two doors—his cell door and another leading the bull-pen, where prisoners are herded on their start to court.

The precinct station, number five, has two entrances, a main entrance, before which sits the desk sergeant and clerks, and a side entrance which is not within view of the station house force. Hand used the side entrance.

Captain William E. Sanford, commander of the precinct, declared locks on the doors were not tampered with. He could not explain how Hand opened the doors unless an attendant failed to lock them last night.

The police are sure Hand is in his cell at 5-10 A. M. At 5:35 Klein discovered his escape.

A. J. Hand, of Toledo, brother of the prisoner, was here Saturday to take charge of the accused's belongings.

Hand was being held for the arrival of the sheriff of Crawford county, Ohio, who was to take him to the Ohio penitentiary.

JURY INDICTS THEATER MAN

Fight To Close Shows
On Sunday Takes New Aspect

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 23. — The Sunday movie war here blazed up anew today when it was learned that the Scioto county grand jury had secretly indicted Robert Risley and Frances MacDonald, on a charge of operating movie houses on Sunday.

First reports from the grand jury said that the deliberators had ignored the cases of the theater managers. The fact that the indictments were secret kept the news from being known until the men were arrested.

A group of ministers led the fight to close the picture shows on Sundays.

MacDonald and Risley have been arrested every Sunday for the past several months, but in most instances they were arraigned in municipal court and fined $50.

Both of the men furnished bond when arrested on the secret indictment. Date for their hearing in trial has not been set.

SALEM MAN RECORDS IDEAS OF NEEDS IN AIDING CONDITIONS

Water Supply Problem, Traffic, Recreation, Safety
All Dwelt Upon; Advocates Advertising Salem
Industries; Chamber of Commerce

TO SALEM VOTERS

EDITOR NEWS:
In order for a city to grow, first, it is necessary to have good water and I hope that our citizens will not forget to vote for water works bonds on election day.

Our present water works is entirely too close to the heart of the city, which is very dangerous. It should be located along some running stream. I believe that the water could be pumped 10 or 15 miles and still be furnished considerably cheaper than it is being furnished at the present time, using, of course, up-to-date and practical machinery.

To raise healthy children, they must have healthy and wholesome water to drink. We should have at least six bubbling fountains distributed along the main thoroughfare of our city and they should be kept in good order. Many adults and children often suffer for the want of a drink of water, which is still considered one of the healthiest and best elements.

The citizens should get together and build a swimming pool, a recreation house with gymnasium and children's playground, where our present water works is now located.

Place For Recreation

The writer would, indeed, be glad to make a picture drawing of such an institution, which would put more pep into the business men, as they would have some place to go the year round and take a swim and do some gymnastic work or get exercise of some sort, which is very essential for everyone.

We trust that the street names will be changed, so that not only strangers, but the home people may become acquainted with them, which they are not now. Have signs put up all along the main thoroughfare, leading in and out of the city, showing which towns can be reached by certain route numbers.

The factories should go together and erect a large sign, down near the depot, which should not be less than 150 feet long, so that it may be read by the passengers, etc., who are passing through here, and should give the data about the city and its industries.

On side streets and also with the should do away with all signal lights on side streets and also that the yellow light, as I believe it is safer to have only the red and green.

We certainly should do something to do away with the blowing of horns, especially after 11 p. m. I, personally, have been driving various animals and automobiles for the past 38 years and never needed a horn and get there just the same. Dislikes City Noise

I read an account in a paper some time ago which read as follows:

"A close contender with jazz in producing madness, are the street noises. A lady of high standing in London shot her grown daughter and herself. In a letter found on a table she tells the coroner that the noises of tooting, trumpeting, and braying auto, of trucks creaking and thumping as the result of defective tires, or auto horn signals sounded continuously and vehemently by lovers as signals to their ladies to hurry with their dressing and the bell ringing of the tradesmen signaling their arrival to their patrons had deprived her of her rest by night and day and irritating her brain had driven her to distraction. To put an end to her misery she had decided to shoot herself and take her daughter with her, as she was unable to take care of herself."

The writer assures you that many of us are awakened at night by this unnecessary horn blowing, etc. The milk man should have a looking after, as they use iron wheels and the horses, very often have loose shoes and in this way make a lot of racket and awaken everybody on the street.

Salem should have at least three times as many factories as it has today. We should all awaken to this fact. It is unreasonable to think that our city can never have more factories.

Bath tubs should be made of a standard size and be not less than 3 or 6 1/2 feet long, encouraging cleanliness which will eliminate disease.

Chamber of Commerce

It should be the duty of a Chamber of Commerce to assist itself as an organization to assist all industrial enterprises in their city. It should strive to keep the firms that are in the city before trying to bring new ones in and whenever they are in want, to go after new companies. It should also appoint a senate of 17 practical men, one an attorney and one a judge and the rest practical business men. Care should be taken in selecting these men, to be sure of fair and impartial decisions. I think a senate of this kind could settle a good many cases out of court and avoid years of litigation, allowing each side to give his own story and they must agree to abide by the decision of the senate. The combatants are each allowed to tell their story in their own way and the loser pay whatever price may be agreed upon.

It is neither practical nor right to insist upon having automobiles lighted at night, especially on the main street where there are lights all around and where the machines can be seen plainly, as it is quite expensive to burn these lights and no real value is derived from same.

Need Employment Bureau

We should have an efficient employment bureau in this manufacturing town call for help and at the same time keep a record of all men in and about the city, so that they may be recommended accordingly. We should have some way to put all loiterers to work. Those who will not work should leave the city, especially non-residents.

If I am not mistaken we have but one man stationed at our water works, at night and if he should fall in any way, the city would be at this mercy. Something should be done to have at least two men at the station.

All fire plugs should be painted absolutely white and black. This should be done about twice a year. I believe that a fireman could easily be used for this purpose.

There should be a law that all fire extinguishers should be hung in a conspicuous place in every plant, so that they may be readily seen. When hidden away in a corner, they are not of much value in case of fire. A fireman should be allowed to inspect all of the fire protection a plant may have. In this manner they become acquainted with the conditions of the plant.

We should have a free day nursery for the women who have to work and do not have time to take care of their children. Give the little ones a proper start in life, because on them depends the future of our country.

Garbage collecting is something that we need badly in this city. I, personally, have had the experience of our garbage setting around for a week, calling practically every day, asking them to come and get it. We, of course, pay for the same. I understand that most people burn their garbage or bury it. I believe it would pay to erect a small incinerator plant and get our lots, alleys etc. cleaned up so as to prevent disease from spreading.

Hereafter there should be no open gas flame allowed in any basement as it is very dangerous.

Construction Code

A committee should be appointed to draft an ordinance for safe construction of high pressure apparatus and especially for ice and refrigerating plants.

I personally, advocate that we should have shows open on Sundays. I believe less harm will come to the youth when they are in a movie than if they are out automobile. We formerly said, "Close the saloon and save the boy." We now say, "Shut out the automobile and save the girl." The average working man is generally tired at night and he deserves some pleasure on Sunday and about the cheapest thing I know of, is a good show, for "The whole world is a stage and we are all actors, but few of us are stars."

Traffic Regulations

The less we do of tagging automobiles, the better off we will be, especially, we do not want to tag strangers. We should do everything to invite them and make it pleasant for them when they come to our city.

The public should have something to say about the way telephone directories are arranged. Everything that is manufactured in the city should be outlined in the rear of the telephone book, so that the home people and also strangers may be able to find what they want. There should be no freak advertising allowed in these columns.

We should have at least two telephone booths located somewhere along the main street where strangers and the public may enter and do their telephoning without having to go into stores, etc. to do same.

Mrs. Edison writes that all children and also grown-ups must have a little recreation every day, as several weeks of vacation are all wrong, for when the vacationers return they are generally tired out and are really ready for a rest. Therefore hope that recreational parks will be furnished for our people.

Chemicals Topic of Tariff Tangle Now

Washington, Oct. 23. — With growing confidence in their power to rewrite the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill, the Democratic-Progressive Republican coalition today planned another assault upon the chemical schedule with proposals for reduction in many instances to the level of the Underwood tariff law of 1913.

Warned by Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin that the chemical schedule, first to be considered, is the "acid test" for the coalition, leaders sought to gather their full strength to whittle down rates of the senate finance committee on many important articles.

STUDENT FAILS IN ATTEMPTING "GAS" ROBBERY

O. S. U. Sophomore Felled
By Station Attendant
During Holdup

Columbus, Oct. 23.—An Ohio State university sophomore, E. Russell Andrix, 17, is being held in county jail here today.

He readily admitted an attempt to hold up one filling station and the theft of a revolver from a North Side residence.

Andrix was captured late last night after his futile try to hold up a filling station. Harold Panin, the attendant at the gasoline supply station, felled Andrix with a blow to the head and with the help of two passers-by, held him until police arrived.

"Sure I stuck 'em up" the university student grinningly admitted.

"But," the college boy continued, "I'm not saying it this is my first attempt. It won't hurt you (the police) to work a little bit by checking through your records."

According to the filling station attendant, Andrix entered the station and told him to stand up.

The sophomore then rifled the cash register of about $28 and turned to go.

"Then," Panin stated to police, "he shoved the revolver into his pocket, turned his back on me and took hold of the door knob to leave the station. I struck him with one hand and grabbed him with the other. I threw him to the floor and two men who were passing by helped me hold him until the police arrived."

Authorities are inclined to believe, they said, that the youth is suffering from a "crime complex." Police records showed that Andrix was arrested two years ago on charges of burglary and grand larceny, but he was not prosecuted at the time because of the high standing of his family in Grandview, a fashionable community suburb here.

Andrix is a student in the college of engineering at the university. Officials there refused to comment on his arrest.

Protection For Crossings
Agreed Upon By Railroads

Columbus, Oct. 23.—Announcement of an agreement for the protection of the public at 33 highway grade crossings over steam railroad and electric lines in various parts of Ohio was made today by Chairman Roscoe T. McCulloch of the State Utilities Commission.

This agreement was reached at a conference between officials of the State Highway department, counsel for the railroads affected, and by Atty. Thomas J. Herbert, special counsel for the commission.

The commission today approved the agreement which calls for installation of the standard flasher light signal system or some equally protective warning device not later than the close of next year.

The commission's latest action affects 12 crossings over the tracks of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad Co., a steam line; 19 crossings over tracks of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton electric line; three over the Dayton & Western tracks; 12 over the tracks of the Indiana, Columbus & Eastern; nine over those of the Lake Shore electric; six over the Lima-Toledo railroad tracks, and one over the tracks of the Northern Ohio Power & Light Co.

The remaining 41 of the 94 crossings over the tracks of these seven railroads in Ohio have adequate protection for the public, the commission stated.

MILLVILLE PROJECT

Editor The News:
To the host of friends and well-wishers, the Millville Sunday school and the association which was chartered to purchase the abandoned Millville school property, are glad to inform the many who are interested to learn of the success of the enterprise, that the necessary funds were raised to pay cash for the property upon receipt of the deed on Sept. 1, with nearly $200 left over for repairs and necessary furnishings.

In spite of unexpected handicaps to be overcome, the Millville community, together with their friends' co-operation and generosity, have made it possible to perpetuate the Sunday school and have a place for social gatherings. They acknowledge a debt of gratitude to organized classes in the Presbyterian, Methodist, and Christian Sunday schools in Salem. The Green Township Sunday school union, the Business Men's association and Manufacturer's association in Salem; R. B. Maxwell & Son, plasterers and contractors of Millville; the J. P. Mellinger Lumber Co. of Leetonia, and individual contributions far and near.

The work of repairing and frescoing and painting is progressing rapidly.

A pie social in connection with a Halloween masquerade and program will be given on Friday evening, Oct. 25, to help raise additional funds for these improvements. The cost of the property was $1,523, the highest price paid for any in the township and about three times the average of all the ten schools sold.

Local Contractor Finds Relief From Ulcerated
Stomach and Rheumatism

When I started to take Owa-Ton-Na, I had so much trouble that it seemed everything was wrong. I had no appetite, when I would eat, food gave me a great deal of distress, sourness and belching spells kept me miserable. My bowels have not been acting good for years. Dizziness and headaches came. Times made me feel as though my head would split open. The joints of my legs, hips and arms were swollen and gave me terrible pains. My back felt as though someone had been beating me and frequently I found it hard to straighten up. I was just completely run down and getting worse all the time.

"Since taking Owa-Ton-Na now I can truthfully say that it has given me a new outlook on life. Why, when my first bottle moved to me that this was the medicine I needed. My bowels act regularly, my stomach is normal and today I can't seem to get enough to eat. Pains and aches are just about a thing of the past."

Owa-Ton-Na assists nature in a natural way to eliminate the disease producing poisons from the body in order that overworked organs may be restored to normal functions with a resultant restoration of better health. You too, may find in Owa-Ton-Na just the medicine you have been looking for. Why hesitate another day in giving this harmless remedy a trial? Varied rumors have been afloat that I have, or am contemplating a partnership in my Radio Department.

Once and for all, I wish to state that there is absolutely no basis whatsoever for such reports. I have conducted my own business for more than fifteen years and I contemplate no change in my policy. I have a fine organization and can imagine no circumstances that would lead me to consider sharing my radio business with anyone.

With new and greatly increased facilities in our new store-room, incorporating a new Radio Department and complete Radio Laboratory, I regard our service in watch repairing, optical, jewelry and radio departments the finest that we have ever given.

The general acceptance of our new departments by the purchasing public has been most gratifying. It again impressed me with the very happy relationship with my employees. Every department of our business is up on its toes.

I am getting a lot of enjoyment from personally directing our constantly increasing business. I have no idea of either dividing the direction of my business or the responsibilities which it involves.

Varied rumors have been afloat that I have, or am contemplating a partnership in my Radio Department.

Once and for all, I wish to state that there is absolutely no basis whatsoever for such reports. I have conducted my own business for more than fifteen years and I contemplate no change in my policy. I have a fine organization and can imagine no circumstances that would lead me to consider sharing my radio business with anyone.

With new and greatly increased facilities in our new store-room, incorporating a new Radio Department and complete Radio Laboratory, I regard our service in watch repairing, optical, jewelry and radio departments the finest that we have ever given.

The general acceptance of our new departments by the purchasing public has been most gratifying. It again impressed me with the very happy relationship with my employees. Every department of our business is up on its toes.

I am getting a lot of enjoyment from personally directing our constantly increasing business. I have no idea of either dividing the direction of my business or the responsibilities which it involves.

Social Affairs

TRAVELERS CLUB

John R. Scofield, Cleveland, who spent six months in South America in 1928, gave a very interesting talk at a meeting of the Travelers club Tuesday afternoon at Memorial building. He used as his subject "Over the Andes to Inca Land." His talk was illustrated with colored slides.

The room was made attractive with autumn flowers. The club had as guests, members of the Book and Music Study clubs and the Delphinian society. After the talk there was a social period. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. L. Frank Smith, was chairman of the committee, which arranged the program. Others on the committee were: Mrs. H. H. Sharp, Mrs. H. H. Barber, Miss Mary Waterworth, Mrs. Frank McCleery, Miss Rebecca Jones, Mrs. R. B. Heaton, Mrs. Amelia Francis, Mrs. Hannah Maule, Mrs. H. K. Yaggi, Mrs. Donald Carey, Miss Helen French, Miss Helen Greiner.

HONORS BRIDES

Mrs. Claude Phipps, of Salem, and Mrs. Harold Reckstetter of Youngtown, brides of this summer, were honored with a surprise party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Phipps, Washington st.

The honorees were both employed at the Schwartz store at one time, and the guests were those employed at this store when they were there. Each was presented a gift. Music and cards were diversions. Lunch was served, edibles for which were taken by the guests.

Mrs. Phipps before her marriage was Miss Fugene Moff, while Mrs. Reckstetter was Miss Marie Svenningson.

MASON'S HALLOWEEN PARTY

Invitations have been issued for the inaugural Halloween jubilee, sponsored by combined Masonic bodies, of Salem, which will be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 29, at Masonic temple.

An orchestra will play for dancing. A good movie is promised and there will be cards, bowling, billiards and pool for those interested in them.

A cafeteria lunch will be served. Masons, their families and out of town guests are invited.

This is the first of a series of social functions arranged by Masons for the winter season.

JUST US CLUB

Members of the Just Us Girls' club met Monday evening at the home of Miss Vivian Heidegger Sebring. Two tables of bridge were in play during the evening.

Miss Helen Kaley of Salem and Miss Doris Rickles of Sebring won the prizes. A two course lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. S. Heidegger.

The next meeting of the club will be held Monday, Nov. 4, at the home of Miss Mildred McClaren, Sebring.

W. C. T. U. SOCIAL

The W. C. T. U. will hold a Halloween masquerade social at 7 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 29, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Edgerton, East Fourth st. A humorous play will be given and games and music will entertain. The members are to bring their husbands or a friend. The guests will unmask at 8.

the North Atlantic. These conditions greatly added to the danger of ice formations on the wings of Diteman's plane at heights above 2,000 feet.

Weather Good In Spots.
However, favorable westerly winds and warmer weather were predicted from the 25th degree of longitude eastward to Ireland, a span of between 500 and 600 miles.

St. John's, Newfoundland, Oct. 23.—In the open cockpit of the tiniest plane ever to essay a trans-Atlantic flight, a grim-visaged six-footer, Urban P. Diteman, Jr., of Billings, Mont., today was well over the Atlantic, if all went well, in a thrilling race against death—with fame as an alternative.

With an amazing display of non-cholesterol, with no previous announcement of his plans, and with no obtainable preparations, Diteman soared aloft from the Harbor Grace Airport at 12:15 p. m. yesterday and headed eastward over the broad Atlantic with London for his destination.

His single-motored, low winged monoplane the Golden Hind, carried 165 gallons of gasoline, hardly enough for only a fair sized flight in an ordinary plane, but deemed sufficient to carry Diteman across the Atlantic in his tiny craft.

Weather reports today indicated that favorable conditions would aid his progress on a good part of the journey, although fogs and squalls were reported in his path at some points.

No Radio Aboard
Diteman flew alone, without radio apparatus, and so far as is known, with none of the usual intricate instruments of navigation used by trans-Atlantic fliers at his disposal.

When Diteman came here he let it be known that his mission was to trace descendants of Sir Francis Drake, from whom he claimed direct descent. In a gesture as of confirmation, he christened his plane the Golden Hind after the famous Galleon in which Sir Francis roved the seven seas.

His departure, therefore, caused little stir. It was assumed he had accomplished his business and was simply bound for other port.

But before leaving he left a sealed note in the hands of airport officials with instructions that it was not to be opened until after his departure.

It was this note that revealed that he had actually left on a trans-Atlantic solo hop in a fashion more

KING'S DAUGHTERS CLASS

The King's Daughters class of Greenford Lutheran church will hold a Halloween social Wednesday evening, Oct. 30, at the K. of P. hall, Greenford.

Cake walks will be a feature. Games will entertain and prizes will be given.

SURPRISE PARTY

Mrs. Carey B. Buckman of Greenford, was honored with a surprise party Tuesday evening given by 12 of her Salem friends at her home.

Five hundred was the main diversion. Honors in the games went to Mrs. L. D. Beardmore, Mrs. E. J. Hutchinson and Mrs. Norman Kelley. Lunch was served.

HOSTS TO EMPLOYEES

Kenneth Zeigler and Lee Butler entertained employees of The Famous Market at a supper at the Butler home, Jennings ave. The party celebrated the twenty anniversary of the market.

CLASS PARTY

Members of the Farr class of the Christian church will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday evening for a masquerade party at the home of Mrs. Howard Holloway, 106 Washington st.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hummer, Franklin ave., have returned home from Beaverville, O., where they have been visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. C. M. L. Altdorfer, of Youngtown, is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Gaustad, North Landy st.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kaufman have moved from Franklin Square to 286 Roosevelt ave.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kennedy left Tuesday by motor for Orlando, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

spectacular than that of any ocean flight, since Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from Roosevelt Field two years ago last May.

Leaves Note Behind
In the note he revealed his destination, asked the officials to forward a package and two letters to his home in Montana. Optimistically, he asked that his tools be held for cable instructions from London. He estimated that he would cross the Atlantic in 25 hours implying that the 165 gallons aboard his plane were more than enough for the trip. He apologized to residents of Harbor Grace for his impromptu less regarding his purpose here, saying that although he actually was a descendant of Sir Francis, neither his visit here nor his flight attempt had anything to do with that fact.

A former cow-puncher, gentleman rancher and dealer in cattle, Diteman has had little more than two years of flying experience.

He is thirty-two, married and the father of two boys, one seven, the other four. Only his wife knew of his plans to make the flight.

Eleven years ago the Englishmen, Alcock and Brown, made the first flight across the Atlantic on the same course Diteman apparently is following—the short "great circle" hop of approximately 2,000 miles from Newfoundland to England.

The Golden Hind is a machine so small that it could easily nestle under one of the great wings of the huge, tri-motored type of plane used by Commander Byrd and Amelia Earhart in their trans-Atlantic flights.

Plane Very Small
Its wing-spread is 32 feet, 6 inches. It weighs only 771 pounds. Because of its light weight, the 165 gallons carried should give the plane a cruising range far in excess of the distance to be covered.

Diteman's plane has a top-speed of 125 miles an hour. Its normal cruising speed is between 60 and 90 miles an hour.

If he is able to maintain an average speed of 80 miles an hour, it was estimated that he will have an adequate margin of safety with the fuel he has on hand.

At that rate, he should also reach London in about 25 hours or at about one o'clock this afternoon, just as he predicted in the note he left behind.

Kenton President Of Bank Succumbs
Kenton, O., Oct. 23.—Morris Meyer 75, president of the Hardin county bank at Forest, near here, and prominent in civic affairs, died at his home today as the result of double pneumonia.

Despite his advanced age, he was active until three days ago when he contracted the illness after a round of golf.

Gun Fight Fatal To Ohio Constable
Cincinnati, O., Oct. 23.—Funeral arrangements are being made here today for Wesley Williams, 45, a constable of Fairfax, who died of wounds which he received in a gun fight with police last Sunday.

Two policemen who were wounded by Williams are recovering according to hospital attaches.

Attorney Shot
New York, Oct. 23.—Aaron L. Applebaum, a patent attorney, was shot and killed today in his office in park row by one of two brothers, who called to discuss a patent. Detectives said they found Pietro Danna standing over the lawyer's body, revolver in hand. His brother, Leonardo Danna, was with him.

Senator Purchases Opium At Capital

Washington, Oct. 23.—The senate was startled today when Senator Mease (D) of South Carolina, exhibited opium which he declared had been purchased within a short distance of the capital.

"I have told you that 'dope' is being sold in places which you can see from a window of the capitol—here it is," said Mease.

Indices of business for autumn mostly favorable.

Hunter Killed

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 23.—A gun which was accidentally discharged while Harry Wolfe, 39, was duck hunting was today responsible for his serious condition in a local hospital.

The shot which lodged in his arm made it necessary for physicians to amputate the man's arm.

Salem High School News

SCIENCE CLUB PROGRAM

The initiation committee of the Science club, headed by Herbert Shriver with his assistants, Nick Nae and Kenneth, Coppock has planned an initiation program for the benefit of new members. This program will be inaugurated Monday.

Each new member is requested to submit a 500 word paper on any scientific subject. Papers will be judged by members previous to candidates' admission to the club.

Officers of the Science club are: Philip Lieder, president; Kenneth Coppock, vice president; and Nick Nae, secretary.

SPANISH CLUB ORGANIZED

Bertha Marillo has been elected president of the newly organized Spanish club. Zella Krepps is vice president and Laura Mae Hoover is secretary. Bertha Bots was appointed song leader and Arrell Dand, chairman of the entertainment committee.

This is the first year of organization of a Spanish club in Salem High. Steps have been taken to make it a permanent organization in the school.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Eight new teachers have taken positions at Salem High this year due to the resignation of former instructors.

Thomas McCullough is the new band director and also teaches English classes, coming here from Wooster. He is a graduate of Wooster college and for several years was in charge of the band there.

Herbert Jones, graduate of Ohio State is in charge of chemistry and physics classes, replacing W. E. Bonney who resigned last year. Jones' home is in Columbus.

H. C. McCord, assistant athletic coach is a graduate of Ohio university at Athens, and also attended the University of Illinois and Ohio State. He is from Ashville and to teach with his coaching duties is a teacher in science classes.

John Ray, mechanical drawing teacher is a graduate of Ohio Northern. His home is in Columbus where he also attended Ohio State.

Miss Velda Lawn of Alliance is the new French teacher. She is a graduate of Mount Union. Miss Isabelle Ritt, Circleville, is a graduate of Purdue university and teaches domestic science.

Miss Mildred Ross, shorthand and typewriting instructor is from Canton and is a graduate of Bliss college, Columbus, and the Wheeling Conservatory of Music, Wheeling, W. Va. At Wheeling, she was awarded a membership in the Order of Greda Artists.

Coat Fashion In Miniature
PATTERN 8841
Salem News 15c Practical Pattern

A very jaunty coat for the young girl is this one with standing collar, and fur banding trimming collar and cuffs. One large bone button fastens the coat in chic manner. There are two inside pockets, practical and warm.

Suitable fabrics for the development of Design 8841 are tweed, chinchilla cloth, broadcloth or velour. We suggest the brown tones, navy blue or mixtures for a serviceable garment. Squirrel, beaver or seal might be chosen for the trimming.

May be obtained only in sizes 8, 10 and 12.

Size 8 requires 1 1/2 yards of 34 inch material.

This model is easy to make. No dressmaking experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with simple and exact instructions including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

SCHOOL HEADS SURVEY BOOZE

Drinking Common At School Parties, Is Report

Cleveland, Oct. 23.—Gin-drinking is common at high school parties, several high school students interviewed at random admitted today following revelations that Cleveland school board authorities have started an intensive investigation of complaints of high school "flask-toting."

Charges have been made to the school board that in some instances pupils have even gone so far as to offer teachers liquor purported to be from family "private stocks."

Although admitting that booze flows freely at high school parties and dances, one student qualified his statement somewhat by saying such drinking is for the most part "talk drinking" and "just to show off."

This student said that most of the reported high school drinkers are from families of the "riskier residential districts."

School authorities have started an investigation of the complaints.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Oct. 2.—The coal man has brought his influence to bear upon women's winter hats and the shape of his head covering is uppermost in smart hat salons in Paris.

A new slant-away line leaves a large expanse of forehead bare and a much more covered neck. Sometimes there are little wings over the ears or a fan-shaped tail-piece sweeping down over the neck. Many of these off-the-face models have developed brims which touch the shoulders in an exaggerated sou'wester effect so that one has the impression that the wearer has pulled it wearily off her face just as a tired coal man might do.

One milliner is making a coal-heaver's shape in black felt with brown gallia, placing a band of the fur across the front of the crown. She is using various materials for her new hats, but notably the new clove crepe de chine which looks as though it were lightly stitched in indefinite designs and some very fine tweeds for sports wear.

Even the artistic beret has come under the coal-heaver influence and one modiste is making her models in softest chenille and beige bouclé with a bandeau of velvet across the forehead.

Trimings are not needed and little favored for these coal heaver hats, although there is much flat fur used with good effect on the more dressy ones, and sometimes for sports wear some very small feathers. It is the cut and the line which counts and these alone will make a woman look ten years younger or 20 years older according to how she chooses.

The secret of the varnish used by Stradivari on his violins has been lost.

ITCHING ENDS WHEN ZEMO TOUCHES SKIN

—thousands say. It's wonderful the way soothing, cooling Zemo brings relief to skin which itches and burns. Even in most severe cases, itching disappears almost as soon as Zemo touches the tender and inflamed surface. To draw out local infection and help to clear away unsightly blemishes, we know of nothing better than invisible Zemo. Always keep this family antiseptic on hand. Use it freely. It's safe as can be. 35c, 60c and $1.00. All dealers.

Town Squabbles About Library

Newfield, N. H., Oct. 20.—Does the word "library" mean a collection of books, a collection of books and the edifice in which they are housed, or the edifice itself.

That was the question up before the residents of this town for decision in an effort to determine what the resulting combination of books and the building should be called.

Part of the inhabitants believed it ought to be named the "Broadhead Memorial Library" in honor of the donor of the collection of books and $10,000 with which to purchase more. Others, insisted the structure should receive the appellation of "Paul Memorial Library" in honor of Miss Isabel Paul, wealthiest resident of Newfield, who promised to erect the building provided it was given her family name.

The question will be decided by vote in the new $500,000 town hall which Miss Paul donated to the community.

Troops Clash

Bucharest, Oct. 23.—A serious clash between Russian and Roumanians near the border town of Tichina was reported today.

According to the reports, the clash occurred Sunday. The Russians are alleged to have opened the attack by throwing bombs, to which the Roumanian forces answered with machine-gun fire.

No More Gas In Stomach and Bowels

If you wish to be permanently relieved of gas in stomach and bowels, take Eastman's Gas Tablets, which are prepared especially for stomach gas and all the bad effects resulting from gas pressure.

That empty, growling feeling at the pit of the stomach will disappear; that anxious nervous feeling with heart palpitation will vanish, and you will again be able to take a deep breath without discomfort.

That drowsy, sleepy feeling after dinner will be replaced by a desire for continued activity. Bloating, with your limbs, arms and fingers will no longer feel cold and "go to sleep" because of stagnation. Gas Tablets prevent this stagnation, with the result that you will feel comfortable and active.

RULING MADE ON CITY PURCHASES

Supreme Court Decides To Hear Appeal Of Lima Plaintiff

Columbus, O., Oct. 23.—Decision to hear the appeal of W. H. H. Phillips, on behalf of the city of Lima, against the judgment of the Allen county courts favoring Frank H. Hume, city purchasing agent at Lima, and Irving C. Brower, city manager, was announced today by the Ohio supreme court.
 Phillips, on behalf of himself and others, filed suit at Lima, seeking an injunction to prevent the purchase of materials and supplies for the city, costing more than $500, under provisions of the city charter and city ordinances. The claim was advanced that such purchases should be made in accord with the state law requiring advertising for bids.
 The lower courts rejected the application for an injunction.

DEATHS

W. H. DERHODES
 Franklin Square, Oct. 23.—William H. Derhodes, 75, widely known in this community, died at 3:45 p. m. Tuesday at his home. He suffered a stroke of paralysis 10 days ago.
 Mr. Derhodes, son of John and Mary Ann Derhodes, was born in Franklin Square and had spent his life here with the exception of one year at Bloomfield, and 10 years in Hagersfield. In early life he was associated with his father in a general store and later was in business for himself. Of late years he had followed the vocation of painting.
 In 1884 he was united in marriage with Ella Burgett, of Geneva. She survives with three children, Mrs. L. Benner and Leona Derhodes, Franklin Square, and Miss Hattie Derhodes, Canton.
 Funeral service at 2 p. m. Saturday at the home in charge of Rev. G. W. Beaver, pastor of St. Jacob's Reformed church; interment in the Franklin Square cemetery.

SMITH FUNERAL
 A large number of friends gathered Tuesday afternoon at the home of George D. Smith, Benton rd., Salem Civil war veteran, who died Saturday morning, to pay last respects.

Rev. G. W. Beaver, pastor of St. Jacob's Reformed church, North of Lisbon, and Trecelet post No. 10, G. A. R., were in charge of the service.

Members of the Sons of Union Veterans served as pallbearers. The firing squad from the camp gave the salute and taps at the grave. Interment was in Hope cemetery.
 Those in attendance from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. George Baird and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. George Cronwell, Mrs. Lou Johnson, George Floyd and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mueller of Alliance; Byron Smith and family, and Forrest Smith and family, North Benton; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Probert and children, New Galilee, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller of Columbiana.

DANIEL S. BOLEN
 Hanover, Oct. 23.—Funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Daniel S. Bolen, 72, an invalid for the last 10 years who died at his home here Sunday evening.

Deceased was a lifelong resident of this village. He was a painter and decorator. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Katherine Newswinger Bolen and four children, John B. of Minerva, D. Joseph of Kensington, Mrs. Mary Blythe at home, Mrs. Abner Borten of Salem and six grandchildren.
 Interment was in Grove Hill cemetery.

day from his wife, Naomi May, on grounds of 40 acres. He was also given the custody of their three-year-old child, Betty May. Just a little more than four years ago they were married in Chester, W. Va., and Leonard charged his wife with unfaithfulness. He was represented in the trial of the case by Judge S. W. Crawford.

COURT NEWS

Judgment Awarded
 The Peoples Savings and Loan company of Lisbon, was given judgment by Judge Jones in the common pleas court on Tuesday, against Joseph Partelli and wife of Lisbon, for $2,558.45 and costs, and the court has ordered the foreclosure of a mortgage on property owned by the defendants on a part of lot 3 in Nace Heirs' addition to Lisbon.

Mrs. Catherine Maxwell, administratrix of the estate of the late Hume Maxwell, of Lisbon, was also given judgment in her claim against the defendants for $346.85. T. C. Williams, Lisbon, for the same amount, and also Frank and Ruggie Taylor for $346.85. The property will be sold by Sheriff Barlow to satisfy the claims.

College Awarded Suit
 Mount Union college was given judgment in the common pleas court on Tuesday against Roy Stan-ford and wife of Homecroft, for $7,526.36, the amount being found due on a promissory note for $3,500 given to the college on June 1, 1929. The payment of the note was secured by mortgage on a 78.36 acre farm in Knox township and the court has ordered this mortgage foreclosed and the property sold at sheriff's sale to satisfy the judgment.

The Vaughn Paint Company was given judgment against E. H. Pettit for $503.95 and costs, the judgment being entered by confession.
 George H. Miller was given judgment against H. E. Zepernick for $209.83.

Divorce Granted
 Roland Leonard of East Liverpool, was given a divorce by Judge Jones in the common pleas court on Tuesday.

MOVIES

At The State

MAURICE CHEVALIER IS AT THE STATE IN "INNOCENTS OF PARIS."

"INNOCENTS OF PARIS"
 A voice and a personality that have brought Parisian audiences to their feet in wild applause, that have made Englishmen forget the London tradition of unemotionalism, and that have made their possessor an international star at the State tonight in "Innocents of Paris."
 The voice and the personality are those of Maurice Chevalier.
 The localities of the picture is Paris. Chevalier plays a happy-go-lucky push-cart peddler in the most picturesque district of Paris, the Flea Market, that colorful, intensely interesting mart where the sea of humanity seethes and swirls, singing its joys and courageously drowning its woes.
 The Flea Market is faithfully reproduced and is quite as interesting on the screen as it would be in the original. Other settings in the picture are a fashionable Parisian theater, a colorful night club and a gun-smith's shop.
 The songs which Chevalier sings in English were written especially for him by Richard A. Whiting and Leo Robin. "Louise" the theme song, is an integral part of the plot and the others are used to develop the character of the peddler singer of the streets and cafes. The three French songs are those which Chevalier has used most successfully before his myriad listeners on the continent. There are seven songs in all. "Louise" is sung twice.
 The star of "Innocents of Paris" is Europe's reigning king of song and pantomime, Maurice Chevalier, a veritable giant of the entertainment profession, a young man who emerged from the World war to become the personification of rebirth that followed the holocaust.

"COLLEGE LOVE"
 "College Love" now playing at the Royal is a clean story of modern youth—of keen rivalry on the grid-iron, showing a football game in sound; tells of the rivalry between two grid stars for the same beautiful co-ed, and the sacrifice of one of them for the glory of his alma mater.
 Two Glee clubs famous over the country sing in the picture the campus songs which urge their football warriors on to victory, and the entire film, directed by Nat Ross, the veteran of college pictures, is replete with all the colorful action of the campus.
 George Lewis, Dorothy Gulliver and Eddie Phillips, who have become the veritable screen idols of college folk and their families through the "Collegeians," the earlier and shorter series produced by Universal, play in the new feature film the characterizations similar to those which broke entertainment records all over the world.

Convict-Auther Again In Trouble
 Columbus, O., Oct. 23.—William Roy Gilman, 27, an ex-convict, whose short-story writing ability won him his freedom from the Ohio state penitentiary here, is being held by Pittsburgh police as a suspicious character, according to authorities here today.

The message stated that Gilman was taken into custody for prowling.

Bad Bargain
 Pomeroy, O., Oct. 23.—The former Leatha Tate may not be superstitious, but she thinks she got the worst end of a marital bargain when she married James Bargain, November 13, 1919. She appeared in court here, alleging gross cruelty and neglect, and asked for a divorce and restoration of her maiden name.

amounted in value to $22,300.00 as compared with $18,000.00 in the corresponding ex post facto 1918 Japan's exports in the same period gained by $346,000 to $6,720,000. Wheat exports to Japan during the 1929 half year amounted in value to $13,250,000.

Photograph Mt. Rainier From Long Distance

Above is a photograph of Mount Rainier, made by Captain A. W. Stevens, of the Army Air Corps (inset), from a distance of two hundred and seventy-five miles. In the picture Mount Rainier appears lower, because of the earth's curvature, than closer mountains with less height. Captain Stevens believes he can make another picture of the mountain from an even greater distance as soon as the forest fire haze lifts.

FRENCH LEADERS ARE IMPROVING

Poincare, Clemenceau Are Recovering From Illness

Paris, Oct. 23.—France's anxiety over the condition of her two wartime leaders, Georges Clemenceau and Raymond Poincare, lessened slightly today.

The "Grand Old Man" of France, today was believed to be on the safe side of a crisis brought on by a sudden, severe heart attack.

M. Poincare, who yesterday underwent a second operation made necessary by the illness which forced him to resign from the premiership last July, today was making satisfactory progress.

The grim battle put up by M. Clemenceau against the effects of the heart attack yesterday was typical of the many political battles he had fought and won during his long, stormy career.

The attack was so severe that attending physicians administered oxygen five times and further thought it necessary to administer an injection of camphor to stimulate the 89 year old statesman's heart.

Yet "The Tiger," as he is affectionately known, maintained his cheerfulness throughout the ordeal and yesterday afternoon was so far recovered as to be able to sit up and write letters, according to an intimate friend who visited him.

PRAYER SUBJECT OF CHURCH TALK

Rev. Calvin Choate Speaks At Revival Meeting At Friends Church

"The only prayer God will answer are those whose motives are to glorify His son, Jesus Christ," according to Rev. Calvin R. Choate of Oregon yearly meeting, who spoke on "Prayer" at the revival service Tuesday evening at the First Friends church.

"When such prayers come from pure hearts there is not anything or any power that will prevent their answer," he stated.

"According to the Epistle of James the answer of our prayers depends entirely on the attitude of our heart to the Lord and the motive we have concerning the answer," the evangelist said.

"Some people want salvation to be used only as a fire escape, and their loved ones to be saved so that the home may be more pleasant for their enjoyment.

"A lot of churches pray for a revival that will enable them to increase their membership or build new churches and parsonages. Many preachers pray for these things that they may have a better report to make at the close of the year. All such motives, James says, are asked amiss 'that ye may consume it upon your own lust.'"

New Type Airplane On British Market

London, Oct. 23.—A new type of light cabin aeroplane is about to be placed on the market by British manufacturers.

The machine is a high wing, two-seater cabin monoplane, driven by a 100 horse-power engine, and its tests have been remarkably successful.

The utmost secrecy is being maintained by the manufacturers in regard to construction and performance, but it is definitely stated that it will be on sale early in 1930.

The machine is fashioned on somewhat similar lines to the de Havilland "Hawk" Moth, which was one of the first medium-sized cabin machines to be produced in Britain. It is hoped that the sale price will not exceed $2500.

Two or three years ago the British manufacturers were hopelessly behind America and Germany in the production of cabin monoplanes—the saloon cars of the air—but it is hoped that this new monoplane will make up much of the leeway.

A Versatile Autogress

Dare (pronounced Dah-ray), a titled European elegant, author of "Lovely Ladies," who has made an extraordinary success in America as a writer within the short space of four years. Where the average newspaper writer succeeds in establishing one feature only after a lifetime of labor, this remarkable woman writes and illustrates a round dozen of syndicated articles that appear in the leading newspapers of the United States and Canada. She maintains office in California, New York, and Paris studio, in which she resides. The scope of her articles encompasses fashions, beauty, cooking, and a variety of children's features.

Too Weak to Testify

Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall being wheeled into the courtroom at Washington, D. C., to face charges of bribery. Owing to the illness of Fall, who is undoubtedly in serious condition, he will not be forced to testify.

"They work while you sleep"

When the bowels need help there is nothing like Cascarets; nothing more efficient, nothing so good for the system. Any doctor can confirm these facts.

Candy Cascarets give you pure cascara in a most pleasant form. Take one tonight. See how fine you feel all next day. Without discomfort and without harmful effects this gentle laxative cleanses the whole thirty feet of bowels. Cascarets never produce that nauseous feeling usually associated with the use of laxatives. And their action is so natural that there is no danger of forming the laxative habit. You can take them as often as you please—or give them freely to children or old folks.

A coated tongue or a laden breath is a signal for a candy Cascarets. Or a sick headache, or any sluggish feeling, any time you believe the liver and bowels are not functioning fully. Cascarets will sweep away accumulations in the lower bowel. They are sweetened with pure cane sugar and flavored with real licorice, making them the ideal laxative for children.

Full medical endorsement proves their principle is right; the use of 20 million packages a year proves their effectiveness.

BUICKS

The world-famous Buick chassis and Buick's smart new Bodies by Fisher! An unrivaled combination! Providing the highest degree of motor car performance and all-round motoring satisfaction, over the greatest number of miles!

The more thoroughly you compare Buick with other cars, the more clearly you will understand why more than 2,000,000 people have bought Buicks—why men and women are buying from two to five times as many Buicks as any other automobile priced above $1200—and why they have purchased more Buicks during the few weeks this brilliant new car has been on the market than in any like period in Buick history.

See the new Buicks and arrange to buy one. Six of the 14 luxurious body types, incorporating all the famous Buick superiorities, are available at prices ranging from $1225 to $1295, f.o.b. factory. All available on the extremely liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

Buick's "27" In-Line Valve-in-Head engine is the most powerful engine of its class in the world. It is famous for its smoothness, economy and endurance. It incorporates such marked engineering advancements as counter-rotating crankshaft with four main bearings, carburetor has control positive pressure, gas pump, and triple main fuel pump.

Buick's Controlled Series Engine-Mechanical Brakes provide the most perfect control ever devised for any automobile. They are smooth, sure-footed in operation, and achieve positive results with minimum pedal pressure. And because they are entirely self-protected against dust, dirt, and water—they insure maximum braking efficiency in any weather.

Even longer, rear springs, in combination with four new "Luxury" Shock Absorbers, insure a superior degree of riding comfort. Time and trial confirm facts work together in perfect harmony to check best brand and rebound over the roughest roads.

Buick's new frictionless steering gear imports matchless steering ease throughout the entire turning range, while the new Buick Road Shock Eliminator absolutely prevents transmission of road jolts and jars to the driver's arms. Twin features which make a tremendous contribution to driving ease and roadability.

Buick's famous multiple-disc clutch, too, reveals marked superiorities. In addition to being far sturdier than those of conventional design, it imparts exceptional smoothness, due to its special facing which causes gentle, gradual engagement of the driving and driven surfaces.

Buick's famous torque tube serves two vitally important functions. It not only carries the driving thrust, leaving the rear springs free to cushion the car's progress, but also forms a major unit of the Buick chassis seal. Every moving part of the Buick chassis—from fan to rear wheels—is fully protected against dust, dirt and water, assuring maximum operating efficiency in any weather.

*The engine in the 124 and 132-inch Buicks develops 57 horsepower, and that in the 115-inch Buicks 86½ horsepower.

SHORTAGE FACES VILLAGE MAYOR

Speed Trap Sponsor To Resign or Official
Will Act

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 23 — Mayor James Cunningham, of Southpoint, near here, who is alleged to operate a "speed trap" in his village, is faced with the alternatives of resigning or criminal court proceedings.

Prosecuting Attorney L. D. Andrews, of Ironton, demanded, in an open letter, that Cunningham resign and he said that in case of a refusal he would use the findings of State Examiner C. W. Boothe as a basis for court proceedings.

According to the prosecuting attorney, Booth's report discloses that there is an alleged shortage of $2,399 in Cunningham's books. The mayor has repaid $338 of this amount.

The examiner also cited receipts which were given to G. C. Pratt, B. H. Thompson and John T. McVan, all of Huntington, W. Va., for $9.75 each. The men are said to have paid these amounts as fines for speeding. The mayor's books show no record of the arrest or trial of these men, according to Andrews.

Southpoint is located on the Atlantic and Pacific highway, a short distance over the Lawrence county line.

The Portsmouth Automobile club led the fight against the alleged "speed trap" and it was reinforced by the automobile clubs of Ironton, Huntington and Cincinnati.

During the attempts of the clubs to break up the "speed trap," Mayor Cunningham arrested Cliff Murlin and two other members of the Portsmouth club for erecting "speed trap" warning signs at the limits of Southpoint. The men were held in jail for six hours. A grand jury refused to indict them.

Prosecutor Andrews gave Cunningham until Saturday to resign.

Studebakers Make Fourth Attempt For Victory In Night Tilt

Salem Aggregation To Meet Undeclared Pros From East Liverpool

Rebuffed on three consecutive occasions in their efforts to break into the win column the Salem Studebakers will make their fourth attempt for a gridiron victory tonight, meeting the strong East Liverpool Pros at Reilly stadium.

It will be a renewal of the old East Liverpool-Salem rivalry, the game being expected to cast a great deal on the reflection of who will be the champion sandlot aggregation in Columbiana county this season. The Studebakers and the Pottery City eleven are undoubtedly the strongest semi-pro teams in the county.

The Pros are undefeated in four games, just as the Salem crew failed to register a victory in its three starts. Wins have been recorded by the Liverpool squad over the strong Youngstown Eagles, the Pleasant Valley Independents, Homewood Independents and Marshall Tech of Pittsburgh.

Strong Aerial Attack

A strong aerial attack with Rudy Halpate hurling the spirals played an important role in everyone of the Pros victories and it is again expected to be a factor in the game tonight. Halpate is a former To-

There are 55 sophomores and the officers elected are: President, Homer Gray; vice president, Arthur Crawford; secretary, Miss Ellen Champion; reporter, Miss Betty Hobson; senator, Glenn Shreve.

The Freshman class has a membership of 55, and have elected the following officers: President, Donald Somerville; vice president, John Mardis; secretary, Miss Laura Benning; treasurer, Miss Margaret Armstrong; news reporter, Miss Bernice Rhinehart.

The school paper is being published every two weeks, with Ellis Steer, editor in chief, and Misses Vera Coy, Hazel Buckholdt and Marjorie West, assistant editors. Ferner is reporter for the eighth grade and Miss Mildred Myers, assistant; Miss Letha Brunk is reporter for the seventh grade, with Randall Cosand and Evelyn Long, assistants.

Several high school boys attended the Greenwood fair, Friday evening. Miss Adrienne Spahn spent the week end in Wooster.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Steer and family entertained Sunday to dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Bailey of Wisconsin; Mrs. Lizzie Binns of Harrisville, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elyson.

Word has been received here of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Windle, 615 West Fifteenth st. Sioux Falls, S. D. Mr. Windle formerly lived in this vicinity.

Dr. Albert Andrews of Chicago, spent Sunday with his cousin, Mrs. Sarah Maris. He was enroute to a meeting of surgeons at Atlantic City.

A masked Halloween social will be held at Ash Ridge school, Friday evening. A prize will be given the person with the funniest costume and also a prize will be given the one having the best costume.

Miss Helen Phillips who is attending Cleveland Bible Institute at Cleveland, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Phillips.

Arthur Ford and Misses Clara and Esther Ford of Marion, Ind.; Miss Helen Minckler and Wylie Smith of Taylor university, Upland, Ind.; Miss Elizabeth Stalker of Canton, and Clark Shreve were guests to dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stanley, with Mrs. Stanley and Miss Anna Haldeman, hostesses. They spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Anna Talbot.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Delaware, formerly of Asbury college spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Talbot and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Negus of Colerain, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peters and son Charles of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson and family of Beaver, Pa.; Mrs. Fred Bixby of Philadelphia, Pa. and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Cobb of Salem, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Reynolds, Sunday. Mrs. Reynolds who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Fred Peters and family in Pittsburgh, returned home with them.

ronio High and Toronto Tigers professional grid star, Monk Lee, Liverpool sandlot product is generally on the receiving end of the aerial thrusts, scoring the touchdown that defeated the Youngstown team last Sunday.

Paul English, Glenville Normal star is the Liverpool team's crack signal-caller with Halpate, Chappie Finley, Newell, W. Va., and Jones, of Wellsburg, Va., the other backs. The line averages between 185 and 190 pounds while the backs are billed to weigh in at approximately 175 avoirdupois.

The Pleasant Valley game was won by a 9-0 score and is considered one of the principal indications of the strength of Liverpool's squad as the losers were rated as one of the classiest teams in the Pittsburgh district. Scores of other contests played by the southern countians are:

Liverpool 6, Youngstown Eagles 0; Liverpool 12, Homewood 6; Liverpool 6, Pittsburgh Tech 0.

The Studebakers put up their best game of the season last Wednesday against the touted Struthers semi-professional gridgers who came here with an enviable record. The visiting crew was outplayed by the motors most of the game but eked out a hard-earned 6-0 win when Salem was the receiver of some bad breaks.

A large gathering of Liverpool fans will accompany their team here to the game as night football is as yet something strange to the opposite end of the county. Fans from the section of West Virginia adjoining the southern section of Columbiana county should also appear if the weather is at all favorable.

The kick-off is scheduled at exactly 8 o'clock.

Delaware, O., Oct. 23.—The battling bishops were given a workout in the rain yesterday and despite a muddy field and a water-soaked ball, they showed plenty of dash and speed which bodes ill for Western Reserve when the Ohio Wesleyan eleven goes to Cleveland Saturday.

The second and third teams of Wesleyan were put through a scrimmaged and given a stiff dose of wet weather and mud football. The varsity was drilled in passing with a scaked and slippery oval.

Dayton, O., Oct. 23.—The Dayton university flyers were given a stiff workout on a rain-soaked field yesterday afternoon in preparation for their tilt with Oglethorpe Saturday at Atlanta. Captain Gowan is on the injured list with a broken rib which he sustained in the Boston college game. Coach Bauman indicated he may revamp the backfield because of Gowan's absence in a half back berth.

Wooster, O., Oct. 23.—Wooster's eleven, which fought Mt. Union to a 6-to-6 Saturday, was put through a stiff signal drill in the rain yesterday. Coach Boles told the players there was a week of hard practice ahead of them.

Sam Willaman's Team Likely Victor, Not Overconfident

Columbus, O., Oct. 23.—Indiana, Pittsburgh, Northwestern, Illinois, Can any of those universities' teams stop the Ohio State football machine?

Two of them, Pittsburgh and Illinois, might but Coach Sam Willaman's varsity should march through Indiana and perhaps Northwestern. "Smiling Sam," as the mentor is sometimes called, who has already sent his squad triumphantly through Iowa and Michigan, won't broadcast his view of the all-important question.

But Sam isn't the kind of a fellow who talks very much. He probably has his hopes, though. He's one of those conservative chaps. The coach knows he has a stiff schedule, however. He admits that much and his actions prove it.

Iowa Gridders Deny Charges

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 23.—For the second time this season, charges of professionalism against Oran Page, star halfback, and John Fuhrman, guard, went bounding across the University of Iowa campus today.

Both men appeared before the eligibility committee late yesterday to deny charges advanced by Big Ten Commissioner J. L. Griffith. The charges state that both men had played professional football with the Dubuque Bears in 1926.

Action of the committee is awaited further investigation, it was announced.

Otherwise he would not have sent his varsity second team, the reserves and freshmen through a hard session in the driving rain yesterday. The varsity was given only signal drill, but the other teams had to scrimmage in the mud of the practice fields.

The varsity is to be thrown against a second string squad this afternoon. All except two of them are in fine shape and reported for practice. Dick Larkins, a tackle par excellence, is suffering from a bad elbow, and Arden McConnell is at his home in Massillon where his father died Sunday. Al Hess who was injured in the Wittenberg game, worked with the varsity for a while, for the first time since the opening engagement.

Dusters here are predicting that the Buckeyes will beat the Hoosiers. Betting odds stand at 2 to 1 and 5 to 3, with Ohio State as the favorites.

When the Willaman team goes into the gridiron battle Saturday, it won't be disillusioned by over-confidence. The mentor has knocked that disease higher than a kite. As the popular expression says:

Illinois is the coach's real bugbear, Pittsburgh, which is not a Big Ten conference member, can't spoil Ohio State's standing in that league. The Eastern team has a good chance of tasting one of "Doc" Willaman's bitter pills, which he made Iowa and Michigan swallow.

Marshall, N. C.—Women with bobbed hair and those who wear dresses over ten inches above the ground and ministers with college education are not eligible to membership in the "Faithful church of the Faithful Incorporated."

Little, N. Y.—Joseph Stiller saw an automobile turn over and rushed to render assistance. While extricating a woman, he was seriously injured by a passing automobile.

4,000 GIRLS IN PARIS ARE LOST YEARLY, REPORT

Astounding Figures Of Missing People Are Given

Paris, Oct. 19.—About 4,000 women are lost in Paris every year and only 50 per cent of them turn up again in one way or another. This is the startling report of Henri Montbrun who has recently made an exhaustive study of police and hospital records for the past ten years.

A large majority of these cases are girls from 15 to 18 years of age, he says, girls who have probably been too often to the American movies and have decided they want to lead their own lives. Many of these regret it and afterward return to the family roof.

Many who leave home do it for love and many of these girls also go back to mother. Others end up by joining the ranks of street-walkers and some become victims of the white slave traffic.

Unhappy young wives make up a large percentage of the number who are lost, very often women with children they cannot support who disappear into thin air. Other cases show temporary insanity in its various forms. Many of these go to the Seine to end their lives. There are also women who were arrested and admitted to go home. Others are hiding from blackmailers.

A special bureau at the police headquarters for handling these cases is crowded with families waiting for news of the lost one. One may see a real life tragedy here every day in the week.

Hailing Adolphe Menjou as "one of the greatest actors of our people" the French movie publications are expressing "joyous surprise" at the news that airy Adolphe has signed up with the French Pathé-Cinema for a series of talkies.

Although Adolphe is a native of the city of Pittsburgh, the City of Light is claiming him as their own. "We are joyously surprised," says Cine-Cinema, a trade publication, "by this news. M. Menjou is one of the greatest actors of our people with his versatile talent, his delicacy, tact and taste."

"This universally known artist is the best means of making French films famous throughout the world."

Is Paris becoming Puritanical? For the first time in so many years that the oldest inhabitant can remember the facts, the Paris censors, by order of popular, pink-faced Prefect of Police, Monsieur Chiappe, have halted the performance of a new play, "Les Desaxés de Paris" which had been a run at the Theatre de la Renaissance.

A few fortunate ones, however, had the luck to see the curious production before the ban was put on and there was one evening of great hooting and hissing, particularly by military and naval officers, who happened to be in the audience, and objected strongly to the scene where a sailor takes the part of a woman in the underworld.

The new play resembles in theme "The Drag" and "The Pleasure Man" which were banned from New York billboards several years ago.

Livingston, Mont.—Rangers at Yellowstone park wonder whether or not a bear can feel sorrow and point out that several weeks ago a young cub escaped from its mother climbed a pole and was electrocuted by a power line. Later a second cub returned from her and met the same fate. The next day the parent came to the pole and whined for about an hour.

"Words Fail To Express Praise For New Konjola"

Happy Man Found Only Relief In New Medicine; Praises It Highly

MR. E. S. COLLINS

"Words fail to express my praise for this new medicine, Konjola," said Mr. E. S. Collins, 225 Jenkins Avenue, Columbus, Ohio. "Over a year ago I had a complete nervous breakdown. My appetite failed and what little I did eat refused to digest. I suffered from intense pain in my stomach and chest; my head palpitated wildly and I was subject to dizzy spells."

Konjola was recommended to me and I made up my mind to try it. Almost immediately I began to rest well at night; my appetite improved and foods digested properly. My nerves became quiet and dizziness disappeared. I could feel new strength and energy flowing through my system. No wonder Konjola is called the master medicine; it surely proved itself in my case."

Konjola is sold in Salem at J. H. Leach, drug store (Mr. Kaminsky), and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

"Furnish from the walls in," counseled one decorator. "Furnish from the floors up," said another. "Too often we must take our walls and floor as we find them, and whatever adjusting has to be done about chairs and tables and other decorative pieces depends wholly on their backgrounds."

But this doesn't impose narrow limitations by any means. A living room floor is not merely a well-carpeted surface. There are all sorts of ways to treat it, and manufacturers seem to be sitting up nights creating new textures that tempt one to change.

Rugs of course are the staple. And how to choose a rug competently is a study in itself. Volumes have been written on Oriental rugs, and certainly it is worth reading carefully any one of the standard textbooks on the subject before investing a few hundred dollars in these artistic textures. Roughly speaking there are only six classifications of Oriental rugs—Turkish, Persian, Indian, Turkoman, Chinese, and Caucasian. But within each group grades, and it shouldn't be assumed there are dozens of varieties, and that just because a rug is an "Oriental" it is good and will last a lifetime. Cheap rugs are made in the Orient in great abundance. And similarly, there are being made in this country today reproductions of Oriental rugs which are exquisite in color, texture and design, easily comparable to authentic Orientals.

As far as lasting forever is concerned—that's a pleasant fable. Any rug, no matter how well made, if given the rough wear and tear of daily use will look worn after a number of years. It may still preserve some of its early beauty but obviously will not be new. The only way to insure an Oriental rug lasting a lifetime is not to step on it too often.

Oriental rugs show to advantage only on fine waxed floors. For plain floors an all-over rug of plain color, with a darker border is always safe, especially if the wall paper is figured. In that case, small rugs placed before a favorite armchair, the piano or fireplace, will add a bit of color to relieve the plain expanse. The exposed floor surfaces should always be slightly darker than the rug.

Two new developments in flooring make it possible to introduce striking decorative ideas. One is the increased use of tiles for flooring in many rooms other than kitchen and bath. In foyer, hall, dining room beautifully colored tiles are gradually becoming popular. They may be waxed or glazed, but otherwise require no great care, and they have excellent lasting qualities. Occasionally a living room done in Spanish or Italian style has a tiled floor, covered in one or two places with small rugs.

Of course, tiles are relatively costly, although once laid they last a long time. But now the manufacturers of linoleums are developing floor coverings that imitate these beautiful tiles very well—and naturally they cost less. Linoleum too, has graduated from kitchen and bathroom, and by virtue of its new design it becomes suitable and dignified for the living rooms of the house. Like tile, linoleum serves as a basis, and a more decorative note is introduced by the addition of a few small rugs at proper points.

Another advantage of linoleum as a floor covering is suggested by the old floors dilemma. Many houses have old floors—not fine old floors that have improved with age, but rather, hopeless ones. Linoleum is much less costly than laying new floors. Also it is both covering and finish is easily cleaned and if a good quality is purchased in the first place it has long wearing capacity.

A beautiful glass jar or bottle in the bathroom doesn't always contain perfume—just as likely it may hold borax or peroxide or any of the homely bath-room necessities. Bottles are among the new objects that have come under the decorator's eye, and now all the utilities as well as the luxuries can be provided with handsome containers.

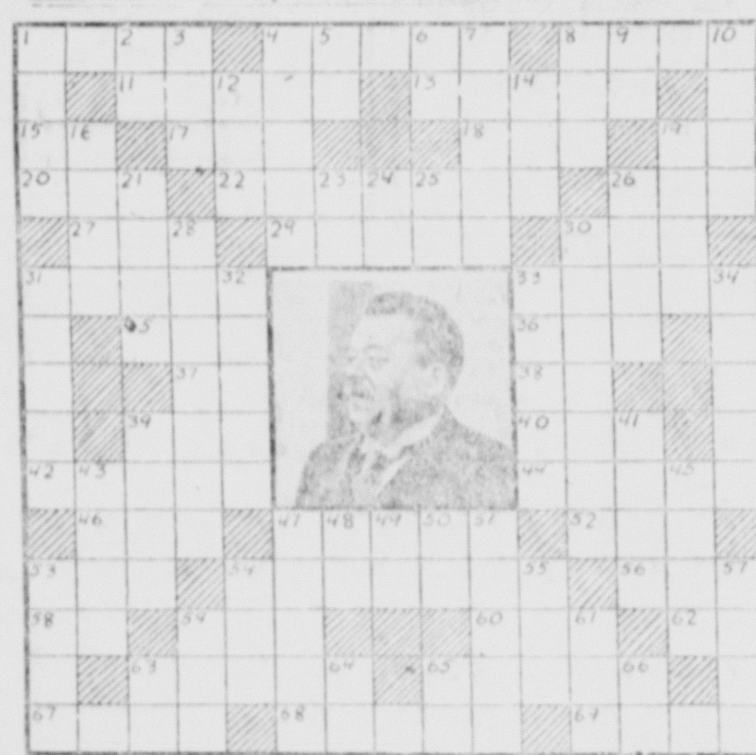

Which makes the assortment of bottles a great help to those who seek the right kind of gift for somebody. You can't have too many fancy bottles and jars. Always there's a good use waiting for another one. There are beautiful glass bottles, in many colors and shapes. Tall, fragile, graceful bottles, adding a touch of decoration to kitchen shelves. Beautiful crocks for salad oil and vinegar suitable for table service. Jars and bottles of pottery some squat and in quaint shapes, resembling curios or antiques but sturdy enough for practical use.

Mexican pottery, clay-colored and more or less decorated in contrasting tints, has a variety of uses. There is the so-called water jug, a foot high, more or less, which makes a very attractive container for tall sprays of autumn leaves or extravagant chrysanthemums. Smaller ones, with flat sides, come in beautiful colors, and may be used for small sprays, or for more utilitarian purposes in kitchen or bathroom. Odd-shaped bottles and jars, of medium size, seem to fit appropriately with other decorations.

However, in the bathroom, the bottles of the same kind seem neater, even though they be of exotic shapes. A variety of designs is a bit too cluttered. But in the modernistic sets of bathroom bottles there's enough of strange shapes and color to prevent monotony.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Broccoli used to be in the "paté de foie gras" class—something served only in expensive dining places. It still remains a high-priced item on restaurant menus. But fortunately, it has become so popular in recent years that you can buy a bunch of broccoli in any well-stocked vegetable market.

Broccoli is botanically, of the cabbage family. But in appearance it's a cross between cauliflower and celery. A bunch of thick green stalks topped by a bunch of green flowerets. That's the appearance of broccoli early in the season. Later on the heads have a slightly purplish cast, and their flavor is a bit stronger. Broccoli in its prime has a cauliflower flavor, but the texture of the flowerets is more delicate. Which may account for the fact that many who cannot endure cauliflower or any of the common species of cabbage nevertheless are enthusiastic about broccoli. Or perhaps we like broccoli better because we know how much more expensive it is than a simple cabbage.

Broccoli is sold either in bunches or by the pound. There's a good deal of waste because most of the stem is tough. You have to peel your way with a pointed knife, and out off as much of the stem as is obviously inedible—which may be about two-thirds. Also the coarse outer leaves must be thrown away as they do not soften in cooking. Soak the floweret bunches in cold water for 15 minutes. Then lift out, place in an uncovered saucepan full of boiling water and cook over a medium flame for 15 to 20 minutes, more or less. At the end of 15 minutes, test for tenderness with a pointed knife, and as soon as ready, remove. Lift out carefully so that the water drains off, but the bunches do not break. Put on a hot plate and serve in any way preferred. To enjoy broccoli at its best, serve simply.

Broccoli, Butter Sauce.
2 lbs. broccoli, cooked
4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Melt butter, add lemon juice and seasonings, and while hot pour over the hot broccoli.

Broccoli, Tartare Sauce.
2 lbs. broccoli, cooked
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon chopped pickle
1 egg yolk
Melt butter, blend flour and boiling water, adding gradually so that only enough is used to make a smooth mixture. Remove from fire, set aside to cool, then add egg yolk, lemon juice and chopped pickle. If the sauce seems too thick a little more hot water and butter may be added. Pile in bowl and serve separately with broccoli.

Cold Broccoli.
Broccoli makes an excellent salad and can be served with any of the cooked or mayonnaise dressings—just as one does with asparagus. No other green or lettuce need be used—it should be served by itself. Indeed few cooked greens combine with any of the raw lettuces, since one is naturally limp and the other crisp.

Chill the broccoli, and just before serving place a tablespoon of mayonnaise on top of each plate. Or serve broccoli separately accompanied by a bowl of mayonnaise or Russian dressing.

Design 8863 may be fashioned of satin, sheer veils or dull silk crepe with equally good results. Smart new tones are fuchsia, tobacco brown, bottle green, dull red and the ever favorite black. A narrow bit of lace must be added to neck and cuffs to relieve the somber colors.

May be obtained only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 32 requires 5 1/2 yards of 40 inch material.

This model is easy to make. No dressmaking experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with simple and exact instructions, including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Oct. 19.—A masculine note is decidedly dominant in women's daytime and sports wear this winter in spite of the more feminine evening styles.

There is an increasing demand for the shorts and trouser mode. After being very popular all summer, they are to be an attractive part of the autumn ensemble in wool and fine fabrics.

One dealer is showing a short blue skirt with three-quarters Cossack coat made in navy-blue and white cravat silk which is certain to be a winner this winter with all the women. It is belted at the natural waistline under a bloused bodice buttoning down the front to the waist under a roll collar of wide white gros grain ribbon.

Another makes a most practical flying costume which looks as lovely outside of an airplane as in one. It comes in tweed and fine leather, the skirt of the tunic dress buttoning up over knickers to match the leather-lined coat which is cut on straight, slenderizing lines.

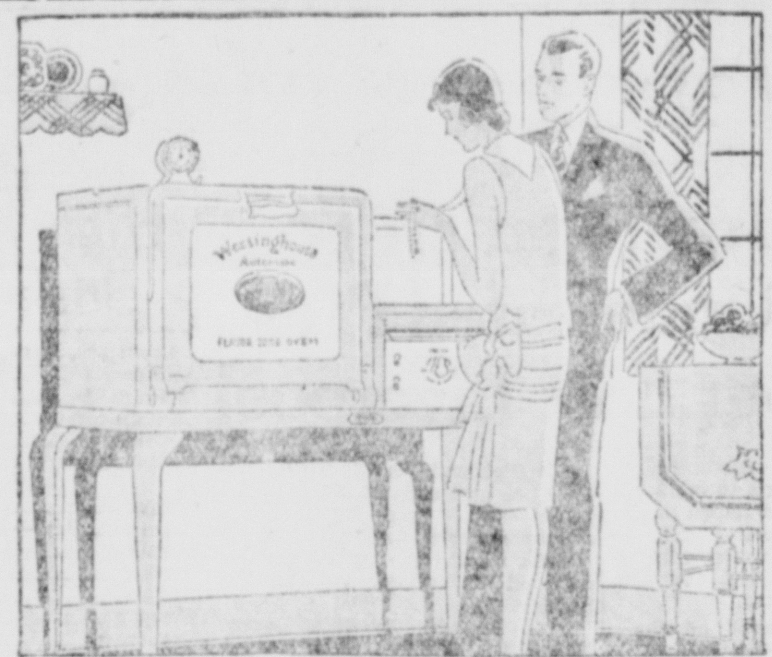

A favorite scheme for the autumn ensemble is a model in blue-grey tweed with soft brown jumper and shorts in blue jersey of the soft duck egg shade. It has a three-quarter coat and neat, trim skirt in tweed. When the game is on, the skirt and coat are discarded.

A note of Deauville, in August, comes forth in a development of the smart bathing suit suggested by black jersey shorts, joined by a white horse-girth belt to a white Angola monogrammed blouse.

A new front pleated black jersey skirt is fitted from a hip yoke and to complete it a three-quarter collarless coat is made in black velvet-lined white crepe de chine and bordered with narrow strips of black and white astrakhan.

Washington—That the shipping board sold ships to "irresponsible" companies and that the government sustained losses which may reach millions of dollars is the startling report submitted to Congress by J. R. McCall, comptroller general, who has just completed an audit.

Walterboro, S. C.—Five persons four of whom were children, were burned to death when an automobile caught fire after turning over in a ditch.

Driver Killed In Motor Truck Wreck

Cleveland, Oct. 23.—A ten-ton truck, carrying a load of freight from Pittsburgh to Cleveland, plunged over a 30-foot embankment near here today, killing Quinto Carcioli, 37, Pittsburgh, owner of the truck, and slightly injuring Willis Young, 41, Pittsburgh, driver.

The Pittsburgh truck, according to witnesses, sideswiped two Akron-Cleveland trucks which had collided on Broadway road, and careened over a steep embankment.

Carcioli was thrown from his seat, falling in front of the truck. It passed over his body, killing him instantly.

LEETONIA

The Parent-Teachers' association of the Leetonia Consolidated School District, held its second meeting of the school year in the school auditorium at Washingtonville. About 200 were in attendance. The meeting was opened by a community sing led by Mrs. Anselvin.

A program was given by the children of the Washingtonville schools which consisted of readings and vocal and instrumental music. All were well given and enthusiastically received. The program ended with a talk by Rev. Mr. B. P. Angle of the M. E. church, Washingtonville, who stressed the great need of co-operation between parents and teachers.

The business session was presided over by the president, Minor B. Lodge. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Florence Wilhelm, and approved as read.

At the request of the president, Mrs. Eva Ashley introduced the membership committee individually: For Leetonia — Mrs. Don Hasbrough, Precinct A; Mrs. Minor Lodge, Precinct B; Mrs. Helen Stambaugh, Precinct C; Mrs. Wm. Atkinson, Precinct D. Washingtonville — Mrs. Charles Weikart and Mrs. Walter Berg. Franklin Square — Mrs. Myrtle Hanna.

Maple Run — Mrs. Homer Peppel. Mt. Vernon — Mrs. Clark Halverstadt. Jersey Ridge — Mrs. George Bates. Mr. Nebo — Mrs. Clifford Aiken.

The committee gave a partial report having received 187 memberships to date, with more territory yet to cover.

Memberships will be received at any time by any one of this committee. The discussion of the three mill tax levy which will come before the voters at the election on Nov. 5 was taken up, and Frank Mossman, clerk of the board of education, presented the following information: Money received for school purposes in all of the Consolidated School District for six months previous to consolidation:

From Columbiana county...$ 2585.44
From Mahoning county... 1760.46
Salem township... 4907.34
Leetonia... 20204.38

Total for six months...$29457.62
Total for one year...$58915.24
Approximately $59,000 per year was required under the old system. The budget prepared by the board of education for the present year with the consolidation, consists of Bonded indebtedness...$ 2,622
Cost of instruction... 38,200
Transportation... 8,600
Repairs, maintenance and transportation... 13,500

Total...$62,722
Tuition received... 3,400
Total required...$59,322
This means the consolidated plan will cost approximately $272 more than the old system.

The total valuation in the Consolidated District is $6,000,000, so an approximate levy of 10 mills will be necessary to raise the required amount. Of this the state levy is 2.65, leaving a levy for the district of 7.35. The former levy was: Washingtonville, 9.51 mills; Leetonia, 7.90 mills; township, 5.51 mills.

With a levy of 7.35, the levy in Washingtonville will be reduced 2.16 mills; Leetonia 53 mills, and the township will be increased 1.84 mills.

The law requires that the school tax rate be the same over all the Consolidated District. After Mr. Mossman's report the matter was thrown open for general discussion and questions.

Miss Webster's room won the attendance prize of one dollar. The next meeting of the association will be held at Midway grange hall on Monday, Nov. 25.

Mrs. Roy Berger, Mrs. Lester Redfoot, Mrs. H. M. Stambaugh, Mrs. Fred Spaholt, and Mrs. Lester Fisher left on Tuesday morning for Columbus, where they will attend the 40th annual session of the Ohio Chapter of Ohio. Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. L. P. Biegle visited in Youngstown on Monday, and attended the concert sponsored by the Monday Musical club.

Mrs. P. V. Reynolds attended the birthday party of her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Wright in Youngstown, Saturday. The party was held at the home of Mr. Wm. Halverstadt and was unusual in the fact that Mrs. Wright was celebrating her 92nd birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Reynolds and children, of Alliance, visited on Sunday with Mr. Reynolds' father, P. V. Reynolds. Mrs. Reynolds and children remained for a short visit.

Miss Ruth Lettice and Kenneth Moore of Canton, spent Sunday with Miss Mildred Williams. Mrs. Susie Reynolds attended the funeral of her cousin, Mrs. Mary Blosser, at North Lima, on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Stambaugh of Youngstown, were callers Sunday at the home of their son, H. M. Stambaugh.

It is a sale at which you purchase two identical articles, paying the standard price for one and only one cent for the other. For example: The standard price of Klenzo Dental Creme is 50 cents. During this sale you may buy two tubes for 51 cents, and thus save 49 cents. Every article on this sale is a high quality guaranteed product being sold all-year-round at the standard price. No limit—buy all you want. Remember, this sale lasts three days only, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A Profit-Sharing Method of Advertising

This sale has been developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you two full-size packages of high quality merchandise for the price of one, plus one cent. It costs money to get new customers, but the sacrifice in profit is justified, because we know these goods will please you.
